EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1901.

A GOOD RECORD WHILE IN OFFICE

Will Probably Result in R. M. Hull Remaining Deputy Factory Inspector.

JOHN TUBBS AS A PRISONER

Man Hailing From Salem Expects a New Trial—John Henry a Peculiar Convict—Ohio's Finances as Revealed By State Treasurer's Report.

Columbus, Dec. 4.—(Special)—Many prominent Columbiana county residents confidently expect that Hon. John H. Morgan, Cambridge, who on Monday succeeded Hon. J. W. Knaub, of Dayton, as state inspector of workshops and factories, will retain R. M. Hull, of Salineville, as one of his district deputies. The terms of the present deputies expire next May, and while Mr. Morgan has not committed himself, it seems safe to assume that there will be no changes in his official force without just cause, and as there is no valid reason why Mr. Hull should not be retained, it looks as if he will remain in his official capacity. His fitness for the place cannot be questioned. He has made an excellent record and one which has not been surpassed by any other deputy.

John Tubbs, the Salem man who began a one year term at the penitentiary several weeks ago for shooting a man, who, he claimed, made trouble in his household, stated to an acquaintance one day this week that he expected to secure another trial in which event he thought he would be assured of his freedom. His attorneys have the matter in charge, and he is daily anticipating a report from them.

Tubbs is taking on flesh rapidly and his health is good. He has not been at the institution long enough to get a hall permit and on this account he is kept locked up excepting when at work and at meal time. The fortunate possessors of these permits are permitted to attend school and promenade about the halls and yard until 8 o'clock at night. The rule is to grant hall permits to prisoners who behave four months after their arrival, although the warden has the power to bestow these favors at any time he chooses. Several friends of Tubbs will request the warden to extend this clemency to him at once.

John Henry, the Columbiana county prisoner, who was punished for an infraction of the penitentiary rules several days ago, is a peculiar individual. He hails from near East Rochester, when he is not immured behind high walls, and is now serving his third term in the Ohio penitentiary. He is known as "Slippery John," and they say this appellation is not a misnomer. John was sent down last year for four years. He has means for collecting clover seed, especially when it is done up in sacks in a neighbor's barn. It was his weakness in this respect that secured for him his present sentence. Singularly enough his second sentence was for a like period and for the same offense. His first trip to the pen was for dealing in pork. He visited a smokehouse and helped himself to its contents without the owner's consent or knowledge. For this the state boarded him a couple of years for nothing. Once in his peregrinations John got in the way of a bullet and he lost not his lung but a section of it. He is employed in the chair shop.

der of the G. A. R., will also make an address.

Colonel John L. Vance, of Columbus, has returned from Cincinnati, where he attended a meeting of the Ohio Valley association which is interested in the proposed improvement of the Ohio river. The association will recommend that the bill providing for this improvement and for the improvement of rivers and harbors of the country be passed at the present session of congress. The bill makes an appropriation for a dam at East Liverpool.

NO ACTION TAKEN

BY LOCAL UNION OF RETAIL CLERKS.

They Claim the Matter Should Be Taken Up By the Merchants' Association.

The problem which now confronts the business men's association of the city with reference to the early closing rules as they apply to the jewelers is far from a solution as in the beginning.

The retail clerks are keeping their hands off, as the officers of their union assert they have not at the present time any right to take up the matter. They say, however, that they may be called upon, in case the merchants' association does not fulfill the agreement entered into several months ago, to act, and if they do it will be in a vigorous manner.

At the time the clerks' union formulated the early closing agreement it was their plan to make a canvass of the merchants concerned and have the document signed. The officers of the merchants' organization took the stand that it might be embarrassing and possibly humiliating for the individual merchant to deal with the clerks and so made a proposition that the agreement be turned over to their society, and that they would see to it that it was not only universally signed, but would be responsible for the enforcement of its provisions. In the present instance it is claimed they have not kept their word.

The officials of the clerks' union are responsible for the statement that they would make no move until it had been clearly demonstrated that the business men do not propose to enforce the rules with their members. When this time comes they will deal with the question in a way that will leave no chance for doubt as to where they stand. They say if the agreement is not enforced they will present the document to the individual firms and that so far as the business men's organization is concerned they will in the future refuse to acknowledge there is such a body in existence.

SETTLEMENT EFFECTED

In Cases Pending Before Court—Payments Ordered in Guttridge Cases.

Lisbon, December 4.—(Special)—The case of Alvah Richardson against S. D. Noragon has been settled and withdrawn; also the Wellsville case of John Nicholson versus James Nolan.

In the case of Harding Bailey, guardian, against Rachel Howard, the sale of property is ordered and the payment of $207.32 to the plaintiff.

In the cases of T. Allen Guttridge against Frank J. Findley and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, judgment has been confessed and a verdict given to the plaintiff of $1,352.22. In the case of Ethel E. Guttridge against Frank J. Findley and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company judgment has been confessed and the plaintiff allowed $147.37. This surety company was on the bond of Frank J. Findley, guardian of the plaintiff in these two suits.

Ed. Dinerstein and Two Others Are Sentenced to Reformatories.

ROLLINS TO STAND TRIAL

Three of the Four Cases Before the Special Grand Jury at Lisbon Are Speedily Disposed Of—Saloon-keeper to Be Tried.

Lisbon, December 4.—(Special)—The special grand jury, at its session yesterday, found a true bill in each of the four cases presented.

The indicted persons are Thomas Rollins, Lisbon, assault with intent to kill; David Howard, Salem, grand larceny; Newell Buzzard, East Liverpool, horse stealing; Ed Dinerstein, East Liverpool, attempted criminal assault.

The prisoners were arraigned at 1 p. m. today. Edward Dinerstein, of East Liverpool, pleaded guilty to the charge of assaulting Hilda Waters and was sentenced to Lancaster reformatory school for an indefinite time.

Newell Buzzard pleaded guilty to stealing a horse and buggy. Buzzard has served five years in the reformatory, though but 18 years of age. He was given an indefinite sentence to the Mansfield reformatory.

David Howard, of Salem, pleaded guilty to the charge of grand larceny. He stated that he would prefer to be sentenced to Mansfield, for he knew several fellows who had been reformed there and had come out men. He wanted to be able to come home and be a man among men. His request was granted and he will go to Mansfield. The judge regretted that David had brought disgrace on his respected father.

Thomas Rollins pleaded not guilty of cutting with intent to wound. Judge W. G. Wells was appointed his counsel. Rollins failed to furnish bond.

Felix Dipper, a Leetonia saloon-keeper, said he was not guilty of illegal liquor selling and was able to furnish $200 bond for his appearance.

SURPRISED THE PASTOR

A Piethoric Purse Presented Rev. J. G. Reinartz at the Anniversary Exercises.

The anniversary services held at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church last night were very impressive.

Rev. Mr. Sheer, of Beaver Falls, preached a sermon from the subject, "Ebenezer—Hitherto the Lord Hath Helped." This was followed by an anthem by the choir and Dr. D. L. Roth, of Pittsburg, preached an able and appropriate sermon.

When another anthem had been rendered Dr. Roth sprung an agreeable surprise upon the pastor, Rev. J. G. Reinartz, in presenting him with a bulging purse on behalf of the congregation. The response of Rev. Mr. Reinartz was touching.

The anniversary services will be continued this evening. Rev. R. M. Smith, of Baden, Pa., and president of synod, Dr. E. Belfour will speak. The services will be in English and the public is invited to be present.

A Colored Man Failed in His Effort to Board a Moving Train.

A colored citizen was late in purchasing a ticket for the up train at noon today and when he endeavored to get aboard the were moving. He was carrying a very large grip, also a bag that handicapped him more than the satchel.

The prospective traveler threw his baggage at a platform, when it bounded back and knocked him down. He was intending to go to Danville, Ky., but had to wait for a later train.

BROKE HIS ARM

Ex-Councilman George Peach Badly Injured By a Fall on the Street.

Ex-Councilman George Peach, while making his way along West Market street near the Diamond this morning, slipped on the ice and fell.

In attempting to recover his feet Mr. Peach's left arm was broken. The injury was a very painful one, the member being broken just above the wrist. A physician reduced the fracture and Mr. Peach is resting easy this afternoon.

TOO LITTLE GIRLS SADLY NEGLECTED

THEIR FATHER LAY DRUNK

When Officers Came to Investigate Their Condition—Cleanned Up And Dressed Up, They Were Sent Rejoicing to the Children's Home.

Because their father would not properly care for them, Ida and Elsie Potts, daughters of Joseph Potts, aged 6 and 8 years respectively, who have been residing in a shanty boat near the street railway power house, were this morning sent to the Fairmount children's home at Alliance.

Owing to the complaints which were made by a number of citizens, the township trustees were led to investigate the treatment of the children and it was decided to take them away from their father, who, it is alleged, did not provide for the little ones as he should have done.

Constable Powell and Policeman Dawson arrested Drake and Dorff and they were arraigned immediately before the magistrate. Both pleaded guilty and paid fines of $15 and costs each.

Madden claims the report which has become circulated to the effect that the fight started in a saloon is untrue. He says the trouble started on the street, and that he was kicked instead of his opponent, as wrongly reported.

In spite of the man's protests the children were taken away from the wretched place and removed to the apartments of a family in the Hotel Grand building, where they were washed and given clean clothing. This morning when the children appeared at the depot, clean and well dressed perhaps for the first time in their wretched lives, they were so changed in appearance that their father would have had difficulty in recognizing them. They were glad to go to the children's home and it is not likely they will ever want to go back to their father's home.

Potts and his wife parted some time ago and the woman secured a divorce. The father refused to give up the children, and it is said they have led a life of extreme hardship ever since he undertook to raise them himself.

The river is steadily rising, having reached a stage of 8 feet 7 inches at noon. It is thought that the rise will continue until there are 10 feet at this point. Packets are doing a heavy business from Pittsburg down.

At the wharfboat the wareroom is pretty well stocked.

LONG LEGAL BATTLE

Expected Over the Will of an Illiterate Woman Who Left a Small Estate.

Lisbon, Dec. 4.—(Special)—An interesting will case is on trial and will continue today. Letitia Myers, of Middleton township, died, naming in the will Solomon Huston as sole executor without bond and leaving him the bulk of her small property, the savings of a life time of domestic service.

Mrs. Hannah Underwood and Peter Myers, brother and sister, claim that Letitia was never mentally incapacitated to make a will. The defense argues that while she could not read nor write, she was able to handle her business affairs and was not dependant upon Solomon Huston, as alleged. The amount involved is about $900. A long legal battle is expected.

KILLED BY A BURGLAR

Cleveland Tailor Shot Down By Man Who Awaits Rifling His Shop.

Cleveland, December 4.—The work of the gang of desperadoes which seem to have infested Cleveland has at last culminated in murder. Last night about 8:30 o'clock Emil Goodman, a tailor, stepped out of his shop to a drug store across the street to use the telephone. A man, who had been hanging about the corner for some time, slipped up the street and entered the shop bent on robbery. He evidently thought that Goodman had left for his home, as he took his time in ransacking the place. As soon as Mr. Goodman had sent his message over the telephone he stepped back to re-enter his shop. Opening the door he was confronted by a man standing behind the counter going through his money drawer.

The burglar looked up, and being surprised in his work, dropped the cash drawer and attempted to run out of the door. Goodman stood in the passageway, however, and did not turn aside. The robber threw himself against him, hurling him back to the wall. Goodman immediately grappled with the burglar, crying for help at the same time. Evidently fearing that he would be caught the robber jerked a revolver from his pocket and shot Goodman in the right side. The wounded man staggered backward, but the burglar wishing to make his job complete, fired again. The bullet went wild and crashed through the rear door. Goodman died in less than an hour.

EVANGELISTIC MEETINGS

To Be Held at the First M. E. Church Opening Decem- ber 29.

Arrangements have been completed by the officers and congregation of the First M. E. church for their mid-winter evangelistic meetings. The meetings will begin December 29 and Evangelist Dunham, of Delaware, has been secured for two weeks just following that date.

The reverend gentleman is a very successful evangelist and is widely known throughout the country.

RIVER BUSINESS

Is Now Very Brisk And a Higher Stage of Water Is Expected.

The river is steadily rising, having reached a stage of 8 feet 7 inches at noon. It is thought that the rise will continue until there are 10 feet at this point. Packets are doing a heavy business from Pittsburgh down.

At the wharfboat the wareroom is pretty well stocked.

PROBATE MATTERS

Administrators Appointed for the Estates of Deceased Persons.

Lisbon, December 4.—(Special)—Lodge Riddle has been appointed administrator of the estate of William Miller, late of Pennsylvania.

W. R. McDonald has been named as administrator of Bascom P. Sanford.

Epworth League Meeting. A business meeting of the Epworth League will be held at the First M. E. church next Thursday. In connection with the meeting a carefully arranged program will be rendered. It is expected that the attendance will be large, as much time has been spent in making preparations for the entertainment.

His Soft Snap Gone.

Robert G. Green, who has been a member of the Alliance police force the past two or three years, has been asked to resign by the council of that city. It is alleged that Green is a better "masher" than a policeman. He is well known in this city and his "decapitation" surprised the local officers.

Basket Ball Contest.

The Y. M. C. A. basket ball team will go to Canton tomorrow, where a game will be played with the association team of that place tomorrow evening. It is hoped a sufficient number of enthusiasts can be induced to make the trip with the club to secure rates on the railway.

Surprise Party—A pleasant surprise party was given last evening in honor of Miss Ella Virten, at her home on Walnut street. About 28 young people were present, refreshments were served, there was an interesting musical program, and everybody present had a very pleasant time.

INSURANCE

Uneasy lies the head of the man who is not insured.

To rest peacefully you need the consciousness that your property is protected by insurance that insures.

During the past ten months 25 fire insurance companies have ceased doing business.

Those that are retiring were the companies that were writing for a few cents less than the usual charge. Don't run the risk of having a policy which in event of loss may prove of no more value than a piece of waste paper.

NEW FRUITS IN GREAT VARIETY.

CONFUSION AND HESITATION.

Were Reflected in the Movement of Prices in the Stock Market, Tuesday.

New York, Dec. 3.—Confusion and hesitation were reflected in the movement of stock prices all day Tuesday, and the course of the market did not persist in one direction for any length of time. The movement during the morning was irregular, but leaned to the side of depression, which gave way about midday to a vigorous upward movement when the abstracts of the president's message made their appearance. A swing in Amalgamated Copper and a rise in call money rates unsettled the market again late in the day, as was the case Monday. The sympathetic reaction did not carry the level of prices back below Monday night, as will be seen by consultation of last prices, which show small net gains as a rule. There was some recovery from the lowest also due to covering by room shorts at the last. The early heaviness of the market was due to some continued uneasiness over the anti-trust views contained in the president's message. The general tenor of the message had been pretty well understood for several days past, and what selling was induced by its contents had been mostly accomplished before the publication. The tone of depreciation of the habit of appeal to hatred and fear in the public arguments against the so-called trusts seemed to gratify speculative sentiment and to ameliorate the stock market effect of the recommendations for regulation of the trusts. In consequence, the demand to cover shorts which followed the publication of the message carried the whole market upward with considerable momentum, the prices of the most prominent stocks rising from 1 to 2 points over Monday night. The sharp break in foreign exchange carried the rate well below the gold export point and relieved apprehension that further gold would go out this week. This helped the midday rally in stocks, although call money rates were distinctly firmer and remained above the 4 per cent level for the most part. The rise to 5 per cent again came late in the day and brought out heavy offerings, which forced the rate back to the low level of the day. The movement of Amalgamated Copper continued an inscrutable mystery. The stock recovered quite vigorously in the morning, although the omission of a customary extra dividend by one of its subsidiary companies was not generally known when the market closed Monday. The renewed break in the raw copper market in London to about Saturday's low level seemed equally without effect on the stock. The break in the late dealings to a new low record of 7½ was without explanation, beyond the early unfavorable developments, which seemed to be ignored. The stock rallied slightly and then became heavy again, but the general market closed firm.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,140,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Flirtation Cost $10,000.

Moscow, Dec. 4.—A disposition to flirt on the part of Grand Duke Alexander Vladimir cost him $10,000. The grand duke was traveling incognito between this city and Malachowka and made friends of two women who were fellow passengers. They treated him to bonbons which were drugged and when he became unconscious robbed him of $10,000 and escaped.

Roosevelt to Attend.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—At a meeting of the Homestead school board it developed that President Roosevelt would be among the speakers at the dedication of the Schwab manual training school next spring.

CONFUSION AND HESITATION.

Were Reflected in the Movement of Prices in the Stock Market, Tuesday.

New York, Dec. 3.—Confusion and hesitation were reflected in the movement of stock prices all day Tuesday, and the course of the market did not persist in one direction for any length of time. The movement during the morning was irregular, but leaned to the side of depression, which gave way about midday to a vigorous upward movement when the abstracts of the president's message made their appearance. A sum in Amalgamated Copper and a rise in call money rates unsettled the market again late in the day, as was the case Monday. The sympathetic reaction did not carry the level of prices back below Monday night, as will be seen by consultation of last prices, which show small net gains as a rule. There was some recovery from the lowest also due to covering by room shorts at the last. The early heaviness of the market was due to some continued uneasiness over the anti-trust views contained in the president's message. The general tenor of the message has been pretty well understood for several days past, and what selling was induced by its contents had been mostly accomplished before the publication. The tone of depreciation of the habit of appeal to hatred and fear in the public arguments against the so-called trusts seemed to gratify speculative sentiment and to ameliorate the stock market effect of the recommendations for regulation of the trusts. In consequence, the demand to cover shorts which followed the publication of the message carried the whole market upward with considerable momentum, the prices of the most prominent stocks rising from 1 to 2 points over Monday night. The sharp break in foreign exchange carried the rate well below the gold export point and relieved apprehension that further gold would go out this week. This helped the market rally in stocks, although call money rates were distinctly firmer and maintained above the 4 per cent level for the most part. The rise to 5 per cent again came late in the day and brought out heavy offerings, which forced the rate back to the low level of the day. The movement of Amalgamated Copper continued an inscrutable mystery. The stock recovered quite vigorously in the morning, although the omission of a customary extra dividend by one of its subsidiary companies was not generally known when the market closed Monday. The renewed break in the raw copper market in London to about Saturday's low level seemed equally without effect on the stock. The break in the late dealings to a new low record of 7 1/2 was without explanation, beyond the early unfavorable developments, which seemed to be ignored. The stock rallied slightly and then became heavy again, but the general market closed firm.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, per value, $3,140,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Flirtation Cost $10,000.

Moscow, Dec. 4.—A disposition to flirt on the part of Grand Duke Alexander Vladimir cost him $10,000. The grand duke was travelling incognito between this city and Malachowska and made friends of two women who were fellow passengers. They treated him to bonbons which were drugged and when he became unconscious robbed him of $10,000 and escaped.

PROBE NAVAL ROW

The Object of a Resolution Introduced In the House by a Mississippian

PROVIDES FOR INVESTIGATION

By a House Committee of Maclay's Attack on Schley, Alleged Approval of Proofs by Crowninshield and Sampson, and Department Affairs.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Representative Williams, of Mississippi, introduced a resolution, the preamble of which referred to the charges of Maclay against Schley in a history adopted for the United States naval academy; that Maclay alleged Crowninshield and Sampson approved of the proofs, and that Maclay was at the time of writing the history and is now in the employ of the navy department. The closing part of the preamble and the resolution read as follows:

"Whereas, said facts disclose a state of things subversive of honorable conduct and consideration among officers of the navy and employees of the navy department; now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the house of representatives of the congress of the United States, That a committee be appointed by the speaker for the purpose of investigating and reporting to the house of representatives the truth or falsity of the said statements as made by the said Maclay, the truth or falsity of the allegations that the proof sheets were submitted to and acquiesced in by said Captain Crowninshield and the said Rear Admiral Sampson, and to recommend to the house of representatives the course of action to be pursued by the house in consequence of the ascertainment of fact to be made by the said committee."

TO HONOR LATE PRESIDENT.

House and Senate Adjourned—Message of President Heard With Attention.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Not in many years have the members of the house listened with such rapt attention to the annual message of a president of the United States as they did to the reading of the first message of President Roosevelt. Every word was followed intently from the announcement of the tragic death of President McKinley in the opening sentence to the expression of the closing wish that our relations with the world would continue peaceful. The reading occupied two hours, but not over a dozen members left their seats until it was concluded. Several times there was applause and at the conclusion there was an enthusiastic demonstration on the Republican side.

On motion of Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, that portion of the message relating to the death of the late president was referred to a committee to consist of one member from each state to join a similar committee of the senate to consider and report by what token of respect and affection it may be proper for congress to express the deep sensibility of the nation to the tragic death of the late president. The speaker appointed a committee, headed by Mr. Grosvenor, and then, as a further mark of respect, the house adjourned.

The senate listened to the first message of President Roosevelt and adopted a resolution directing the appointment of a committee to co-operate with a like committee from the house to consider by what token of respect and affection congress might express the sorrow of the nation upon the tragic death of the late President McKinley. The message was delivered soon after the senate met. The reading occupied nearly two and a half hours, and was listened to with marked respect by the senators. The first portion, dealing with the Buffalo tragedy, excited the most profound interest in the senate.

At the conclusion of the reading of the message Mr. Foraker, senior senator from Ohio, presented the McKinley resolution, and, as a further mark of respect, the senate adjourned.

ALLEGED DISFRANCHISEMENT

Congressman Dick Introduced Resolution For Investigation.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Representative Dick, of Ohio, has introduced a resolution for a general investigation of the denial or abridgement of the right to vote in certain states, with a view to reducing the congressional representations from such states. The resolution recites that "it is a matter of common information and belief that the rights of some male citizens, being 21 years of age, to vote at elections is denied and abridged in certain states." In conclusion the resolution provides:

"Resolved, That the matter be referred to the committee on election of president, vice president and representatives in congress, with power to subpoena and examine witnesses, under oath, and to send for records and other evidence, to investigate fully and completely, and report what, if any, proportion of the number of male citizens, 21 years of age, in any state, to whom said state denies or abridges the right to vote aforesaid, except for participation in the rebellion or other crimes, bears to the total number of male inhabitants of such state, being 21 years old and citizens of the United States."

STREET RAILWAY SOLD.

Philadelphia Parties Secure Canton-Massillon Line.

Canton, O., Dec. 4.—Protracted negotiations have resulted in the transfer of the Canton-Massillon electric railway to Philadelphia parties. The property consists of local lines in Canton and Massillon, an interurban line of eight miles, and also an interurban line from Massillon to Navarre, five miles.

It is said the purchasers are closely associated with the Elkins-Widener syndicate of Philadelphia, and there is a well-known rumor that the Northern Ohio Traction company will take formal possession within 30 days.

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of the disease is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. That remedy is used in this way by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon, and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, druggist.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1901.

A start has been made at the Chester tin plate mill, and that young and hustling West Virginia town is more a manufacturing village than ever. There are few towns anywhere with better prospects, and this fact is well attested by the activity in real estate and the numerous building operations in progress there. Chester has grown well, but it appears only to have begun to grow. The town has excellent prospects of improved railroad facilities, and it is almost a certainty that more manufacturing enterprises will be added ere long. The men who have been instrumental in the up-building of Chester are thoroughly alive to the interests of the town and are not likely to overlook the opportunity to secure for the town any enterprise that can be secured which will promote its future prosperity. Chester has a splendid outlook, and not only have her people reason for rejoicing thereat but those of East Liverpool also. Although a state line divides them, their interests are mutual, and the prosperity of one is sure to help the other. Unless all signs fail the development of a great and populous community, already established in this section of the Ohio valley, will be far more rapid from this time on, and Chester will play no insignificant part therein.

An important move is to be made in the house of representatives in the direction of reducing the representation in congress of the southern states which disfranchises the negro vote. It is proposed to appoint a special committee to challenge the right of the Louisiana delegation to their seats in this house. Representative Moody, of Massachusetts, a member of the committee on appropriations and one of the leading Republicans of the house, will offer the resolution. The constitution plainly provides for the reduction of representation in case the right to vote is denied to male citizens 21 years of age or over. A resolution to investigate the whole subject has been offered by Congressman Dick.

The potters' banquet tonight will together most of the representative "captains of industry" of East Liverpool and vicinity. They are men who have succeeded because they deserve to succeed, and where prosperity has attended them it has been shared by the whole community. They have helped to make East Liverpool the thriving city it is today, and they are not through helping it forward on the path of progress. The present outlook for them and for the Crockery City is a pleasing one, and both are to be congratulated.

An international exposition is in progress at Charleston, S. C., which will doubtless attract a large number of northern visitors during the winter months. The south will doubtless surprise such visitors by the revelation it will make of its prosperity. The exposition will help further to indicate to northern capitalists the opportunities for profitable investment in southern fields, and will be the means of stimulating the growth of industries already phenomenal, in that section.

Peace hath its victories no less renowned than war. The present congress has to deal with the issues of peace. Its work may not become historic, but there is abundant opportunity for it to be useful.

Good horses are now reported higher than at any time in the past 25 years. Farmers and stock raisers are not alarmed at the introduction of the automobile and trolley car.

William J. Bryan will please take notice that the supreme court says the Philippine Islands are part of the United States and to be governed accordingly.

The only evidence in the president's message that its author is a rough rider is found in the paragraphs dealing with anarchy and anarchists.

The most unique figure in the present congress is Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, who first sat in that body exactly 50 years ago.

The man who can read Roosevelt's message without feeling proud of our president is a pretty poor specimen of the American citizen.

President Roosevelt's view appears to be that a trust has a right to live so long as it behaves itself and no longer.

OBITUARY

Joseph Pool.

Joseph Pool, aged 52, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 183 Ravine street. He had been suffering for some time with an abscess. He had been in poor health for several years. He leaves a widow and six children. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Crawford. The interment will be made in Riverview.

Salem, December 4.—Peter Welker, aged 81, one of the oldest residents of Salem, is dead, leaving five children. He was born in Springfield township, and followed mercantile pursuits and was a commercial traveler for years.

TELLER AN EMBEZZLER.

First National Bank, Ballston, N. Y.
Closed.

Ballston, N. Y., Dec. 4.—The First National bank of this place was closed pending an investigation by a national bank examiner. It is stated that the closing of the bank's doors followed the discovery of irregularities in the accounts of the teller, Charles E. Fitcham.

Bank Examiners Graham and Van Franken were sent for Monday and began a thorough examination. They reported a shortage of $100,000. The directors then decided to close the bank pending an investigation, and a warrant for Fitcham's arrest was issued. Fitcham was bonded to the amount of $10,000. He has a wife and one daughter. President Lamoreaux said that it was not possible to determine the amount of Fitcham's defalcation without an inspection of the outstanding certificates of deposit and depositors' pass books. The examination, he said, shows the teller alone is responsible. Mr. Lamoreaux added that it is not thought possible that any loss can come to depositors or certificate holders, as the bank has a surplus of $100,000, which, it is hoped, will nearly or quite meet the deficit and leave the bank capital of $100,000 unimpaired.

SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY.

Man With Shots In Back and Neck
Arrested at Mansfield, O.

Mansfield, O., Dec. 4.—John Smith, a stranger, who claims he lives at 168 Superior street, Cleveland, but has been working until recently at Pittsburgh, as a machinist, is under arrest here, suspected of being implicated in the robbery of the Tiro bank, about the middle of October.

Wounds of about 20 shot were found on his neck and back. When the Tiro robbery occurred one of the robbers was shot in the neck and back, but escaped with his companions.

Mrs. Maud Booth Not Seriously Ill.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 4.—The report of the illness of Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth proves to have been exaggerated. She spoke here at the college Monday morning and felt the altitude somewhat, but did not stop speaking. She finished her address, spoke in the afternoon to a large gathering of women and again in the evening to another public meeting at the college. She is stopping at the home of Senator Seldomridge, and is reported perfectly well.

POTTERY NEWS

The Brian Pottery company at Trenton Monday celebrated its advent into a new field, the manufacture of sanitary ware, with a banquet. Covers were laid for 17 persons, comprising the members of the company and a few invited guests. The employees will be tendered a banquet within the next few days.

Secretary T. J. Duffy, representing the N. B. of O. P. and Leroy Orr, of the local Trades and Labor Council, left the city at noon today for Scranton, Pa., where the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor will be in session.

Archie Searight, of the kiln department in Laughlin's No. 2, is improving slowly from his illness and will probably not be able to return to his duties until after the holidays.

Daniel Ryan, who works at the Dresden, is laid up from injuries to his right leg, caused by a bad fall on a Market street pavement last evening.

James Wheatley has returned to his work as turner in the clay department of Laughlin's No. 2, after several days' illness.

The kilnmen of Laughlin's No. 2 were off Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late John T. White.

James Miles has accepted a bench in the glaze at Laughlin's No. 2.

AT THE THEATER

Theatergoers were given another opportunity last evening of hearing Daniel R. Ryan and his select company in the presentation of the play, "O'Brien, the Contractor." The play was well received. It brings out the many qualities for which Mr. Ryan and his company are noted. All handled their parts in a creditable manner. The moving pictures and little Ida May helped to entertain and the illustrated songs by Phillis Gilmore made a decided hit.

JEFFERSON AS AN INVENTOR.

Mr. Jefferson invented the copying press. He writes to Mr. Madison in 1787: "Having a great desire to have a portable copying machine and having studied over some experiments with the principle of large machines made to apply in the smaller one, I planned one in England and had it made. It answers perfectly. I have set a workman to making them, and they are of such demand that he has his hands full. I send you one. You must expect to make many essays before you succeed perfectly. A soft brush, like a shaving brush, is more successful than a sponge." He also sent a copy press to the Marquis de Lafayette as a present. He invented the revolving chair, now a familiar and necessary article of furniture in all offices and counting rooms. The Federalist newspapers used to call it "Mr. Jefferson's whirling" and declared that he had devised it "so as to look all ways at once."

Thus was Mr. Batterson's opportunity to talk shelled. Governor Waller knew his man.—New York Times.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

William Collier is visiting his parents in Salineville.

John B. Bennett returned today from Vanport, Pa.

Rev. Alexander Steele has returned to his home at Uniontown, after a visit with relatives here.

William Banfield returned last evening to Beaver, after a few hours' inspection of the Chester tin mill.

Fannie and Annie Bertold have returned to their home in this city after a visit with friends at Salineville.

Miss Gertrude Erlanger, of Baltimore, niece of Mr. and Mrs. William Erlanger, Sr., is a guest at their home in this city.

Mrs. Lyman Earle and daughter Ethelyn have returned from a week's visit with Mrs. Earle's sister, Mrs. H. L. Kerr, in Pittsburg.

THE GIRL WHO GREW PRETTIER.

Mr. Charles Whymper, the well known engraver and animal painter, told the following anecdote some years ago: "I dined at Mr. So-and-so's at Highgate last night, and as a mark of honor his eldest daughter was assigned to me to take down to dinner. She's a bright girl, and I got along very nicely with her and Lady Bletherington on the other side until the ladies were on the eve of retiring to the drawing room. I was talking about the beautiful scenery near the house, the views from the windows, the fine air, when Miss — suddenly said, 'I think I get prettier every day, don't you?'

"What could she mean? I did not dare to answer her, so I said: 'I beg your pardon. What did you say?'

"I said I think I get prettier every day."

There was no mistaking her words, so I answered, "Yes, indeed, you get prettier, and no wonder in such fresh air and— Just then she caught her mother's eye, and, with the other ladies, she left the room. As she went out she looked over her shoulder with such a withering scorn in her eyes that I knew I had put my foot in it somehow. Then it flashed upon me that I had misunderstood her. She had dropped an 'h.' What she had said was not a silly compliment to herself. The sentence really was, 'I think Highgate prettier every day.'—Chambers' Journal.

KNEW HIS MAN.

A story about the late James G. Batterson, president of the Travelers' Insurance company of Hartford. Ex-Governor Waller of Connecticut wanted to obtain a charter for a new corporation which he represented, and the opposition called Mr. Batterson as their star witness. He was asked by his own side only two questions.

"You have lived in Hartford a great many years, Mr. Batterson?"

"Yes, sir."

"Are you in favor of granting this charter?"

"No, sir."

Here his lawyers rested, leaving the rest to chance, knowing that Mr. Batterson could keep his end up in any verbal battle with ex-Governor Waller. The latter began by asking:

"Mr. Batterson, you have lived here many years?"

"I have."

"Well, sir," added Governor Waller, "it is my wish that you may live in Hartford many more years. That is all, sir."

Thus was Mr. Batterson's opportunity to talk shelled. Governor Waller knew his man.—New York Times.

HIS AFTER DINNER SPEECH.

There is no field of mental effort in which success in its most flattering form may be won quicker than on the after dinner platform. The man who can amuse and instruct such an audience, for instance, as that which assembles each year at the New England society dinner, perhaps the most critical in New York, may awake to find himself famous. A few hours before Henry W. Grady of Atlanta was to speak at the New England society's dinner in 1888 a correspondent of a southern newspaper asked him what he would say, and he replied:

"The Lord only knows. I have thought of 1,000 things to say, 500 of which if I say them will murder me when I get back home, and if I say the other 500 they will murder me at the banquet."

The ovation which the young, smooth faced southerner, almost unknown in New York, received at the dinner that night when the last ringing sentence of his speech had been spoken never has been equalled on a similar occasion, and his fellow citizens at home stood for hours in the rain in crowds waiting to greet him on his arrival as the spokesman of the new south. His progress from a local to a national reputation had been made in a bound.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1901.

A start has been made at the Chester tin plate mill, and that young and hustling West Virginia town is more a manufacturing village than ever. There are few towns anywhere with better prospects, and this fact is well attested by the activity in real estate and the numerous building operations in progress there. Chester has grown well, but it appears only to have begun to grow. The town has excellent prospects of improved railroad facilities, and it is almost a certainty that more manufacturing enterprises will be added ere long. The men who have been instrumental in the up-building of Chester are thoroughly alive to the interests of the town and are not likely to overlook the opportunity to secure for the town any enterprise that can be secured which will promote its future prosperity. Chester has a splendid outlook, and not only have her people reason for rejoicing thereat but those of East Liverpool also. Although a state line divides them, their interests are mutual, and the prosperity of one is sure to help the other. Unless all signs fall the development of a great and populous community, already established in this section of the Ohio valley, will be far more rapid from this time on, and Chester will play no insignificant part therein.

An important move is to be made in the house of representatives in the direction of reducing the representation in congress of the southern states which disfranchise the negro vote. It is proposed to appoint a special committee to challenge the right of the Louisiana delegation to their seats in this house. Representative Moody, of Massachusetts, a member of the committee on appropriations and one of the leading Republicans of the house, will offer the resolution. The constitution plainly provides for the reduction of representation in case the right to vote is denied to male citizens 21 years of age or over. A resolution to investigate the whole subject has been offered by Congressman Dick.

The potters' banquet tonight will together most of the representative "captains of industry" of East Liverpool and vicinity. They are men who have succeeded, because they deserve to succeed, and where prosperity has attended them it has been shared by the whole community. They have helped to make East Liverpool the thriving city it is today, and they are not through helping it forward on the path of progress. The present outlook for them and for the Crockery City is a pleasing one, and both are to be congratulated.

An international exposition is in progress at Charleston, S. C., which will doubtless attract a large number of northern visitors during the winter months. The south will doubtless surprise such visitors by the revelation it will make of its prosperity. The exposition will help further to indicate to northern capitalists the opportunities for profitable investment in southern fields, and will be the means of stimulating the growth of industries, already phenomenal, in that section.

Peace hath its victories no less renowned than war. The present congress has to deal with the issues of peace. Its work may not become historic, but there is abundant opportunity for it to be useful.

The only evidence in the president's message that its author is a rough rider is found in the paragraphs dealing with anarchy and anarchists.

The most unique figure in the present congress is Galusha A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, who first sat in that body exactly 50 years ago.

The man who can read Roosevelt's message without feeling proud of our president is a pretty poor specimen of the American citizen.

President Roosevelt's view appears to be that trust has a right to live so long as it behaves itself and no longer.

OBITUARY

Joseph Pool.

Joseph Pool, aged 52, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 183 Ravine street. He had been suffering for some time with an abscess. He had been in poor health for several years. He leaves a widow and six children. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Crawford. The interment will be made in Riverview.

Peter Welker.

Salem, December 4.—Peter Welker, aged 81, one of the oldest residents of Salem, is dead, leaving five children. He was born in Springfield township, and followed mercantile pursuits and was a commercial traveler for years.

TELLER AN EMBEZZLER.

First National Bank, Ballston, N. Y. Closed.

Ballston, N. Y., Dec. 4.—The First National bank of this place was closed pending an investigation by a national bank examiner. It is stated that the closing of the bank's doors were off Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late John T. White.

Bank Examiners Graham and Van

Vranken were sent for Monday and began a thorough examination. They reported a shortage of $100,000.

The directors then decided to close the bank pending an investigation, and a warrant for Fitcham's arrest was issued.

Fitcham was bonded to the amount of $10,000. He has a wife and one daughter. President Lamoreaux said that it was not possible to determine the amount of Fitcham's defalcation without an inspection of the outstanding certificates of deposit and depositors' pass books.

The examination, he said, shows the teller alone is responsible. Mr. Lamoreaux added that it is not thought possible that any loss can come to depositors or certificate holders, as the bank has a surplus of $100,000, which, it is hoped, will nearly or quite meet the deficit and leave the bank capital of $100,000 unimpaired.

SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY.

Man With Shots In Back and Neck Arrested at Mansfield, O.

Mansfield, O., Dec. 4.—"John Smith," a stranger, who claims he lives at 168 Superior street, Cleveland, but has been working until recently at Pittsburgh, as a machinist, is under arrest here, suspected of being implicated in the robbery of the Tiro bank, about the middle of October. Wounds of about 20 shot were found on his neck and back. When the Tiro robbery occurred one of the robbers was shot in the neck and back, escaped with his companion.

Mrs. Maud Booth Not Seriously Ill.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 4.—The report of the illness of Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth proves to have been exaggerated. She spoke here at the college Monday morning and felt the altitude somewhat, but did not stop speaking. She finished her address in the afternoon to a large gathering of women and again in the evening to another public meeting at the college. She is stopping at the home of Senator Schilderidge, and is reported perfectly well.

POTTERY NEWS

The Brian Pottery company at Trenton Monday celebrated its advent into a new field, the manufacture of sanitary ware, with a banquet. Covers were laid for 17 persons, comprising the members of the company and a few invited guests. The employees will be tendered a banquet within the next few days.

Secretary T. J. Duffy, representing the N. B. of O. P. and Leroy Orr, of the local Trades and Labor Council, left the city at noon today for Scranton, Pa., where the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor will be in session.

Archie Searight, of the kiln department in Laughlin's No. 2, is improving slowly from his illness and will probably not be able to return to his duties until after the holidays.

Daniel Ryan, who works at the Dresden, is laid up from injuries to his right leg, caused by a bad fall on a Market street pavement last evening.

James Wheatley has returned to his work as turner in the clay department of Laughlin's No. 2, after several days' illness.

The kilnmen of Laughlin's No. 2 were off Tuesday afternoon to attend the funeral of the late John T. White.

James Miles has accepted a bench in the glost at Laughlin's No. 2.

AT THE THEATER

Theatergoers were given another opportunity last evening of hearing Daniel R. Ryan and his select company in the presentation of the play, "O'Brien, the Contractor." The play was well received. It brings out the many qualities for which Mr. Ryan and his company are noted. All handled their parts in a creditable manner. The moving pictures and little Ida May helped to entertain and the illustrated songs by Phyllis Gilmore made a decided hit.

The Arctic Summer.

The arctic summer is brief, but for weeks together there is nothing to distinguish day and night. Once at Dvornik two naturalists had left their ship at different hours. When later they met, one said, "Good morning;" the other, "Good evening." Both agreed that the hour was 7, but while one traveler held that it was 7 tomorrow morning the other maintained that it was 7 o'clock last night. On returning to the ship they settled that it was last night, so they dined and went to bed again.

WELLSVILLE

BOWLING CONTEST

East Liverpool to Meet Captain Shingler's Team at Wellsville

Tonight.

Captain Shingler will not accept the challenge of C. B. Craig for various reasons. Nevertheless he extends a challenge to Craig to bowl on Campbell's alleys or any other alleys in the state. A team from East Liverpool will contest with Captain Shingler's five tonight. These teams have played a series of games and the results have been very close, which fact will insure an interesting contest tonight.

The East Liverpool boys have been beaten in the majority of the games, but are very agreeable, and their appearance in Wellsville is always greeted most kindly.

WITH A TIN CAN

William Sams Struck Mrs. Rudy, Painfully Injuring Her Head.

Mrs. Minnie Rudy, accompanied by her father, Zimri Whitacre, appeared before Squire MacKenzie and had a warrant issued for the arrest of William Sams. Mrs. Rudy charged Sams with striking her with a tin can and thereby painfully bruising her cranium. She said her ear was split open by the can and that Sams otherwise abused her.

Before the warrant was served Sams arrived in the justice's court and wanted to plead guilty. The plaintiff withdrew her charge and he was dismissed after paying the costs.

FIREMEN AT THE SHOW

And Therefore Slow in Responding to an Alarm for a Small Blaze.

Fire was discovered in a wash house at the rear of Henry Thomas' residence on Coal street last night at 10 o'clock. It being the first alarm sent to central station for several months an immense crowd quickly gathered.

Most of the fire department were at the Cooper opera house and consequently were a little late arriving on the scene, nevertheless the flames were soon extinguished and the damage done was small.

Resigned Her Position.

Miss Pearle Swan, formerly a resident of this city, and who has many friends here, resigned her position as leader of the orchestra in the Bon Ton Stock company last Saturday at New Castle. She departed for her home in Canton. Her non-appearance here with the company this week was a disappointment.

Running With Small Force.

The Carroll Porter boiler works of the West End are now running with a force of only 16 men. There are reported enough orders in to keep the men working for two weeks, and then it is the general supposition that business will be suspended until a more prosperous outlook is presented.

Fisher-Dever.

At the home of the bride in Steubenville, Frank B. Dever and Miss Laura B. Fisher were united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremonies were attended by relatives of this city, who were R. R. Dever, Misses Mary Aten and Sadie Blackburn.

A Lodge Lecturer.

H. C. Hall, supreme president of the P. H. C., will lecture in the city hall on the evening of December 18. The lecture will be free to all and will be given under the auspices of the Wellsville Lodge. The Lodge is quite a strong organization, having 208 members.

Pleasantly Entertained.

Mrs. A. R. Wells pleasantly entertained the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church at her home on Main street last night. After the regular business was transacted an excellent musical program was rendered.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

Miss Mary Bright is a Pittsburgh visitor.

Mrs. T. L. Apple is the guest of friends in Ravenna.

Mrs. James Peck, of Front street, is quite ill with quinsy.

S. A. Snediker is recovering from a three weeks' severe illness.

Rev. J. A. Latelle, of Hookstown, was a visitor here yesterday.

C. V. Shoub returned last evening from a business visit in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marshall are visiting Mrs. Thomas Parsons near Bellaire.

Mrs. Perry Kessell's infant daughter is very ill with an attack of membranous croup.

Misses Goldie Murdock and Eva Brenneman are home from a visit with friends in Beaver.

Mr. Grocott, a foreman in the U. S. pottery, is confined to his home as a result of sickness.

Mrs. George Given, of Wellsville, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clem Spidle, who is dangerously sick.

Felix Rooney has returned from New Castle and will start to work on the sewer contracts for Irwin Bros.

Horace G. Norris, who fell into the sewer outlet last Saturday, is slowly recovering from the injuries received.

The mission chapel in the West End is preparing to give a social December 10 for the benefit of the church.

Stephen Ridinger has accepted a position on the new pipe works near Hammondsburg and is moving his family to that town.

Max Barth, a carpenter, while working on a scaffold in the fair ground fell a distance of 10 feet, but received no serious injuries.

A. R. Wells is having two new houses erected on his lot at the corner of Eighteenth street. One of them when finished is sold.

The remains of Mrs. J. H. Parmalee are expected to arrive from Georgia today and will be interred in the Uriel lot in Spring Hill cemetery.

Win Risher, the popular watchman at the West End crossing, is a friend to the reporters. He very willingly divulges that which he knows and rarely misses giving the newspapers a bit of news.

Charles H. Snediker's safe, which refused to open over a week ago, will be tried by an expert safe blower this week. This safe contains very little money, but is keeping some valuable books out of sight.

J. L. Porter will return this evening from Midway, Pa., where he was attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter. Mrs. Porter died last Monday, aged 80, and leaves a husband and six children.

Louis Burnfield, accused of assault and battery by his wife, Libby Burnfield, was to have had a hearing yesterday before Squire MacKenzie, but no witnesses appeared for the prosecution and he was dismissed.

Fred Millsack, one of the noted members of the West End gun club, met with an experience with a polecat while hunting that he will not soon forget, and neither will his associates who have acute smelling faculties.

The Pulpit Versus the Bar.

An eminent American lawyer, now deceased, was sadly given to intoxication. On one occasion he entered a church while a minister was holding forth on the future punishment of the wicked.

Fixing his eye upon the lawyer, who was reclining near the door, the preacher exclaimed, "There stands a sinner against whom I shall bear witness in the day of judgment."

At this the lawyer folded his arms, planted himself as firmly as he could and, addressing the man in the pulpit, electrified the whole congregation after this fashion:

"Sir, I have been practicing in the criminal courts for twenty years, and I have always found that the greatest rascal is the first to give state's evidence."

OIL EXCITEMENT

In the Vicinity of Fairview Now at a High Pitch—Many Producing Wells.

There is much excitement prevailing in the oil fields recently opened near Fairview.

Upon the farms of Samuel Carson, William Bell and John R. Scott there have been 10 wells drilled by Messrs. Murray, Miller and Freshwater. The amount of oil flowing from these wells daily is over 120 barrels, each well producing about 12 barrels.

The Sam Williams well near Brownsdale is producing 20 barrels per day and the all the farms adjoining have been leased and well will be drilled at the earliest opportunity.

COUNTY TAXES

Are Now Due And O. O. Allison Will Start Out to Collect at Once.

Oscar O. Allison, deputy sheriff of Hancock county, has received the county tax book of the Grant district, and will start immediately to collect the taxes for the year 1901.

The total amount when collected will aggregate several thousand dollars.

Tool Box Rifled.

J. S. D. Mercer, a carpenter who has been working on an East End contract, is the loser of a number of valuable tools. He locked his tool box Saturday night and upon opening it Monday discovered that the box had been rifled of six saws.

Toured the Town Alone.

A horse belonging to Thomas Gables broke loose from a hitching post near the bridge yesterday and ran away, but did no serious damage. The horse became fatigued after making a tour and stopped near the place it started.

Canceling Town Debts.

Chief Allison, having received the tax money from the potters and mill, is now able to cancel the debts against the city. He was around today paying the bills of the city officials which have been standing for several months.

His Contract Finished.

Frank Hinton, an East Liverpool contractor, has finished the excavation for the cellars under the 50 new houses being built for the employees of the tin mill.

CHESTER NOTES.

Samuel Allison is suffering with a severe cold.

Attorney George L. Bambrick of New Cumberland, was in Chester today on business.

Mrs. R. H. Dunn was called to Irondale yesterday on account of the serious illness of a relative.

David Marshall, of Lawrenceville, was called yesterday to the bedside of his mother, who is seriously ill at her home in Georgetown.

Mrs. Samuel Martin is dangerously ill at her home on Carolina avenue. Relatives in Beaver have been notified and will be at her bedside to-day.

Antiquity of Playing Cards.

The game of cards was first played in the east and seems to have had a military origin. Cards were introduced from Asia into Europe at the time of the crusades and were first used by necromancers to foretell fortunes. They soon became a popular amusement in the south of Europe, where the Saracens and Moors taught the people how to use them, and card playing spread to all parts of the continent. The state records of Germany mention the fact that Rudolph I, in 1275, was fond of the game and played with his courtiers.

After the invention of paper the manufacture of cards became extensive, but declined somewhat when card playing was forbidden by several of the German states and by the English government on account of the supposed immoral tendency. Before the era of paper cards in the orient were made of ivory, papyrus and canvas, less frequently of the precious metals and quite commonly of wood.

For a Very Good Reason.

"I told him I would make him eat his words," declared Mr. Beechwood hotly, speaking of a quarrel he had with Mr. Brushton. "He has been telling things about me that are rank untruths."

"How foolishly men talk to one another!" commented Mrs. Beechwood placidly.

"What do you mean?" demanded her husband. "Do you intend to insinuate that men talk to each other more foolishly than women chatter?"

"Of course I do," the lady went on imperturbably. "Now, women never try to make each other eat their words, no matter how angry they may be."

"Certainly not," retorted Mr. Beechwood, "and for a very good reason too."

"What reason?" she demanded.

"Because their digestive apparatus is inferior to their vocabulary."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

There are Sectional Book Cases and Sectional Book Cases but it remained for John Danner, the man who made revolving book cases famous, to make the most practical one of all them all.

There is a great deal of space lost in most sectional cases by the shelf in each unit being the same height. The Danner avoids this with adjustable shelves. The raising doors are another annoyance—the Danner has sliding doors.

We are showing a window full. Come and see the other good points.

SOCIALISM A BLOW AT the WORKINGMAN

By Archbishop CORRIGAN of New York

HE great shibboleth of the socialists for more than a hundred years has been liberty, equality and fraternity. Their theories would destroy all three in the only sense in which there is any possibility for them to exist. Liberty is the right to enjoy what belongs to oneself without infringing the rights of others. The first principle of socialism takes this away because it aims at the acquisition of the rights of the individual. True equality, of course, means equality before the law and then the equality of opportunity and of reward in proportion to the value of labor. It cannot mean that all men should be equal in every sense. To maintain that theory as well it might be said that all mountains should be of equal height, that all vessels be of equal capacity and that all metals be of equal value and utility.

IF THE THEORIES OF THE SOCIALISTS WERE CARRIED OUT, THE WORKINGMAN WOULD BE THE FIRST TO SUFFER.

When socialists say that property should be transferred from the individual to the state or the community, they strike a direct blow at the liberty of the workingman. It is undeniable that a man by having this right to dispose of his wages as he wishes and to possess property is much better off under the present system than he would be under such a system as is urged by the socialists, because under their rule whatever a man acquires must pass not to himself, but to the community.

When these socialists say that it is not necessary to own land because the state will provide for one's wants, they are simply begging the question. Private property is always recognized as a legitimate possession, and individual rights are always prior to those of the state. IT IS FOLLY TO SAY THAT A MAN WITH ALL HIS INNATE RIGHTS SHOULD BE SUBJECTIVE TO THE STATE.

His Hair Stood on End.

"Up to five years ago," said a prospector to a St. Louis Republic reporter, "I didn't believe in such a thing as a man's hair standing on end." And then the old gentleman told the story of the fright that led him to change his mind:

"I was in the mountains of Idaho with a friend, and we ran short of fresh meat, so one day I took my gun and started off alone. I went into a ravine and was making my way along a little brook when I came suddenly upon a queer sight. Not four feet in front of me, in the full blaze of the sun, lay four mountain lions asleep.

"For half a minute I thought them dead, but as I stood staring at them, with my hair in my mouth, every one of them sprang up with a growl. And they faced around at me, looking ugly, sniffling the air, with their whiskers drawn back, showing the white line of their teeth, switching their tails and looking like demons."

"As for me, I stood rooted to the spot. I couldn't move from sheer fright. A queer, numb sensation began in my ankles and crept up my body, and I literally felt my hair rise."

"I stood there motionless for several minutes. Then one of the beasts dropped his tail and whined. The others followed his example. My presence mystified them. A few seconds later they turned about and crept away down the ravine, looking back stealthily two or three times to see me."

"When they were out of sight, I began to breathe again. I didn't care to hunt any more that day and made for the camp at top speed. That was the time my hair stood on end, and my scalp was sore to the touch for a week afterward."

A Careful Mother.

This is a story one woman is never tired of telling of a mother whose child had been ill with scarlet fever. She always emphasizes the fact, too, that the mother was possessed, upon ordinary occasions, with good sense and would be called a more than ordinarily intelligent woman. She was, too, a more than ordinarily careful mother, and it was as an illustration of this that she told the story of the care of her boy to the friend who now repeats it. Not as much was known about sanitary conditions then as now, but it was not in a time of primitive ignorance.

"I always believe in taking the greatest care to prevent contagion in any disease," said the mother, "and with the fever I was extraordinarily careful. Why, when the skin began to peel I rubbed the child down with my hands every day to remove every loose fragment, let it fall into a cloth, and then I gathered it up carefully and shook it out the window."

WELLSVILLE

BOWLING CONTEST

East Liverpool to Meet Captain Shingler's Team at Wellsville
Tonight.

Captain Shingler will not accept the challenge of C. B. Craig for various reasons. Nevertheless he extends a challenge to Craig to bowl on Campbell's alleys or any other alleys in the state. A team from East Liverpool will contest with Captain Shingler's five tonight. These teams have played a series of games and the results have been very close, which fact will insure an interesting contest tonight.

The East Liverpool boys have been beaten in the majority of the games, but are very agreeable, and their appearance in Wellsville is always greeted most kindly.

WITH A TIN CAN

William Sams Struck Mrs. Rudy Painfully Injuring Her Head.

Mrs. Minnie Rudy, accompanied by her father, Zimri Whitacre, appeared before 'Squire MacKenzie and had a warrant issued for the arrest of William Sams. Mrs. Rudy charged Sams with striking her with a tin can and thereby painfully bruising her cranium. She said her ear was split open by the can and that Sams otherwise abused her.

Before the warrant was served Sams arrived in the justice's court and wanted to plead guilty. The plaintiff withdrew her charge and he was dismissed after paying the costs.

FIREMEN AT THE SHOW

And Therefore Slow in Responding to an Alarm for a Small Blaze.

Fire was discovered in a wash house at the rear of Henry Thomas' residence on Coal street last night at 10 o'clock. It being the first alarm sent to central station for several months an immense crowd quickly gathered.

Most of the fire department were at the Cooper opera house and consequently were a little late arriving on the scene, nevertheless the flames were soon extinguished and the damage done was small.

Resigned Her Position.

Miss Pearle Swan, formerly a resident of this city, and who has many friends here, resigned her position as leader of the orchestra in the Bon Ton Stock company last Saturday at New Castle. She departed for her home in Canton. Her non-appearance here with the company this week was a disappointment.

Running With Small Force.

The Carroll Porter boiler works of the West End are now running with a force of only 16 men. There are reported enough orders in to keep the men working for two weeks, and then it is the general supposition that business will be suspended until a more prosperous outlook is presented.

Fisher-Dever.

At the home of the bride in Steubenville, Frank B. Dever and Miss Laura B. Fisher were united in marriage last evening at 8 o'clock. The ceremonies were attended by relatives of this city, who were R. R. Dever, Misses Mary Aten and Sadie Blackburn.

A Lodge Lecture.

H. C. Hall, supreme president of the P. H. C., will lecture in the city hall on the evening of December 18. The lecture will be free to all and will be given under the auspices of the Wellsville lodge. The lodge is quite a strong organization, having 208 members.

Pleasantly Entertained.

Mrs. A. R. Wells pleasantly entertained the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church at her home on Main street last night. After the regular business was transacted an excellent musical program was rendered.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE. Miss Mary Bright is a Pittsburgh visitor.

Mrs. T. L. Apple is the guest of friends in Ravenna. Mrs. James Peck, of Front street, is quite ill with quinsy.

S. A. Snediker is recovering from a three weeks' severe illness.

Rev. J. A. Latelle, of Hookstown, was a visitor here yesterday.

C. V. Shoub returned last evening from a business visit in Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marshall are visiting Mrs. Thomas Parsons near Belaire.

Mrs. Perry Kessell's infant daughter is very ill with an attack of membranous croup.

Misses Goldie Murdock and Eva Brenneman are home from a visit with friends in Beaver.

Mr. Grocott, a foreman in the U. S. pottery, is confined to his home as a result of sickness.

Mrs. George Given, of Wellsville, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Clem Spidell, who is dangerously sick.

Felix Rooney has returned from New Castle and will start to work on the sewer contracts for Irwin Bros.

Horace G. Norris, who fell into the sewer outlet last Saturday, is slowly recovering from the injuries received.

The mission chapel in the West End is preparing to give a social December 10 for the benefit of the church.

Stephen Ridinger has accepted a position on the new pipe works near Hammondsburg and is moving his family to that town.

Max Barth, a carpenter, while working on a scaffold in the fair ground fell a distance of 10 feet, but received no serious injuries.

A. R. Wells is having two new houses erected on his lot at the corner of Eighteenth street. One of them when finished is sold.

The remains of Mrs. J. H. Parmalee are expected to arrive from Georgia today and will be interred in the Uriel lot in Spring Hill cemetery.

Wm. Risher, the popular watchman at the West End crossing, is a friend to the reporters. He very willingly divulges that which he knows and rarely misses giving the newspapers a bit of news.

Charles H. Snediker's safe, which refused to open over a week ago, will be tried by an expert safe blower this week. This safe contains very little money, but is keeping some valuable books out of sight.

J. L. Porter will return this evening from Midway, Pa., where he was attending the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Porter. Mrs. Porter died last Monday, aged 80, and leaves a husband and six children.

Louis Burnfield, accused of assault and battery by his wife, Libby Burnfield, was to have had a hearing yesterday before 'Squire MacKenzie, but no witnesses appeared for the prosecution and he was dismissed.

Fred Millsack, one of the noted members of the West End gun club, met with an experience with a polecat while hunting that he will not soon forget, and neither will his associates who have acute smelling faculties.

The Pulpit Versus the Bar. An eminent American lawyer, now deceased, was sadly given to intoxication. On one occasion he entered a church while a minister was holding forth on the future punishment of the wicked.

Fixing his eye upon the lawyer, who was reeling near the door, the preacher exclaimed, "There stands a sinner against whom I shall bear witness in the day of judgment."

At this the lawyer folded his arms, planted himself as firmly as he could, and addressing the man in the pulpit, electrified the whole congregation after this fashion:

"Sir, I have been practicing in the criminal courts for twenty years, and I have always found that the greatest rascal is the first to give state's evidence."

OIL EXCITEMENT

In the Vicinity of Fairview Now at a High Pitch—Many Producing Wells.

There is much excitement prevailing in the oil fields recently opened near Fairview.

Upon the farms of Samuel Carson, William Bell and John R. Scott there have been 10 wells drilled by Messrs. Murray, Miller and Freshwater. The amount of oil flowing from these wells daily is over 120 barrels, each well producing about 12 barrels.

The Sam Williams well near Brownsdale is producing 20 barrels per day and all the farms adjoining have been leased and well will be drilled at the earliest opportunity.

COUNTY TAXES

Are Now Due and O. O. Allison Will Start Out to Collect at Once.

Oscar O. Allison, deputy sheriff of Hancock county, has received the county tax book of the Grant district, and will start immediately to collect the taxes for the year 1901.

The total amount when collected will aggregate several thousand dollars.

Tool Box Rifled.

J. S. D. Mercer, a carpenter who has been working on an East End contract, is the loser of a number of valuable tools. He locked his tool box Saturday night and upon opening it Monday discovered that the box had been rifled of six saws.

Toured the Town Alone.

A horse belonging to Thomas Gabble broke loose from a hitching post near the bridge yesterday and ran away, but did no serious damage. The horse became fatigued after making a tour and stopped near the place it started.

Canceling Town Debts.

Chief Allison, having received the tax money from the potters and mill, is now able to cancel the debts against the city. He was around today paying the bills of the city officials, which have been standing for several months.

His Contract Finished.

Frank Hinton, an East Liverpool contractor, has finished the excavation for the cellars under the 50 new houses being built for the employees of the tin mill.

CHESTER NOTES.

Samuel Allison is suffering with a severe cold.

Attorney George L. Bambrieck of New Cumberland, was in Chester today on business.

Mrs. R. H. Dunn was called to Irondequoit yesterday on account of the serious illness of a relative.

David Marshall, of Lawrenceville, was called yesterday to the bedside of his mother, who is seriously ill at her home in Georgetown.

Mrs. Samuel Martin is dangerously ill at her home on Carolina avenue. Relatives in Beaver have been notified and will be at her bedside to day.

Antiquity of Playing Cards.

The game of cards was first played in the east and seems to have had a military origin. Cards were introduced from Asia into Europe at the time of the crusades and were first used by necromancers to foretell fortunes. They soon became a popular amusement in the south of Europe, where the Saracens and Moors taught the people how to use them, and card playing spread to all parts of the continent. The state records of Germany mention the fact that Rudolph I., in 1275, was fond of the game and played with his courtiers.

After the invention of paper the manufacture of cards became extensive, but declined somewhat when card playing was forbidden by several of the German states and by the English government on account of the supposed immoral tendency. Before the era of paper cards in the orient were made of ivory, papyrus and canvas, less frequently of the precious metals and quite commonly of wood.

AGAINST ANARCHISTS

A Proposal, From Germany to U. S., For Action, Probably En Route.

APPROVE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

German Papers and People Accept It In Agreeable Spirit—English Papers Commend It, but Doubt Some Suggestions Will Be Carried Out.

London, Dec. 4.—The London daily papers this morning, in commenting on the president's message, in part, recognize its conservative and business-like moderation.

On the whole, however, the newspapers are skeptical of any great outcome from the president's efforts in the direction of reform of the trusts, anti-anarchism or reciprocity, the idea being that the senate will effectively stop in and prevent any great changes in the existing system.

Most of the papers remark upon the tone of exultation adopted by President Roosevelt in dealing with the canal question, but they do not show the slightest disposition to cavil thereat.

The Daily Telegraph says it would have been an inconceivably disastrous blunder to have opposed America's wishes in this matter and thus driven her to build a still greater fleet than she already contemplates, which, it is safe to predict, will, 20 years hence, make the United States the second sea power in the world.

Rather Diminish Europe's Dread.

The Telegraph thinks that President Roosevelt's policy is calculated rather to diminish than to increase Europe's exaggerated dread of the American danger.

The Standard is similarly of the opinion that nothing in the message need in the smallest degree excite anxiety or apprehension abroad.

The Morning Post is disappointed that the message contains no echo of the late President McKinley's pronouncement, "the period of exclusion is over," and comments mainly upon President Roosevelt's unexpected moderation.

The Daily Chronicle hopes that although President Roosevelt shows great tenderness for protectionist susceptibilities, his proposed policy is a step in the direction of free trade.

Regarding President Roosevelt's spirited enunciation of Monroism the Chronicle says:

"Whether the European nations are likely to respect this American prohibition much longer, when the desirable colonizing grounds of the world are being snapped up in a headlong race, must depend ultimately upon the ability of the United States to enforce their prohibition.

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The message of President Roosevelt caused a mild thrill in Germany. On the booms, where it was eagerly awaited, the message was received with uncommon interest and the market generally was slightly stimulated upon the posting of a bulletin containing President Roosevelt's utterances about trusts. The shares of the steamship companies fell one or two points on account of the immigration inspection paragraph and the proposed development of the merchant marine.

Several financial journals aver there is no reason why the United States should not encourage ship building. They say that if the United States becomes possessed of a commercial fleet she will have to build it, inasmuch as the attempts to buy German lines of steamers have been defeated.

President Roosevelt's words concerning the restriction of immigration contain an unpleasant suggestion in the present time of depression, when, as the Berliner Volks Zeitung says, the hard times makes an over flow of the laboring population of Europe necessary. The free trade and liberal newspapers welcome the reciprocity recommendations, but regret that President Roosevelt did not recommend a specific tariff reduction.

America May Take Initiative.

The first impression of the president's message in German official circles is that the repression of anarchists by international agreement is much more likely to be carried through upon the initiative of the United States than by that of any other power. An anti-anarchist proposition from Germany along the same lines as that of President Roosevelt is probably already on its way to the state department at Washington.

The Vossische Zeitung says the president's message indicates that the feet of the United States are well in the imperialistic path and that ventures abroad seem to agree with them.

The National Zeitung alludes to the

Taking the message altogether, it has been favorably received, both popularly and officially.

QUEEN AND PRINCE RECONCILED

Kaiser Brought Pressure on Husband. Mother Urged Queen.

Amsterdam, Dec. 4.—Prince Henry, Queen Wilhelmina's consort, returned to the Loo palace from Germany on Sunday. Monday, in the presence of the queen mother, a reconciliation was effected between the royal couple. The consort was absent from home during the whole time of the queen's illness, including the most critical period.

It is learned that Queen Emma persuaded Queen Wilhelmina to forgive Prince Henry, while Emperor William brought pressure to bear upon the prince to the same end. Arrangements have been made to pay Prince Henry's debts, and this removes the original cause of the quarrel.

GREAT RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

Experienced at New Kensington, Pa.

Religious Growth in Arnold and Parnassus, Pa.

New Kensington, Pa., Dec. 4.—This town is experiencing the greatest religious revival in its history. Several weeks ago a movement to organize a Young Men's Christian association was started and the association now has almost 400 members, while plans for a Y. M. C. A. hall are being discussed.

The Rev. N. S. Fiscus, of the First Presbyterian church, has been conducting a successful revival and in almost every church revival services of some kind are in progress and many new members are being received.

The Methodist Protestants have organized a new congregation, whose membership is rapidly increasing. The church people of Arnold and Parnassus are meeting with similar success.

LUKBAN WAS TOO LATE.

General Smith Replied That Time For Negotiations Had Passed.

Manila, Dec. 4.—Advices from Catbalogan, capital of the island of Samar, report that the insurgent General Lukban has offered to negotiate terms of surrender with General Smith. To this offer the American commander replied that the time for negotiations had passed.

Lieutenant Commander James M. Helm, commanding the United States gunboat Frolic, during November destroyed 147 boats engaged in smuggling supplies to the insurgents.

General Smith has ordered all male Filipinos to leave the coast towns for the interior. In order to be allowed to return they must bring guns, prisoners or information of the whereabouts of insurrectionists.

Five hundred natives of Catbalogan have volunteered to fight the insurgents in order to bring peace to Samar. Of these 100 have been accepted. They are armed with bolos and spears and are doing scouting duty under command of Lieutenant Compton.

Lieutenant Haines, of the Ninth Infantry, attacked and destroyed a rebel fort, inflicting heavy loss, and captured the officers' breakfast, which included canned goods. He found at the fort an arsenal with appliances for making and reloading cartridges.

The American marines are working havoc with the insurgent cause in the southern part of Samar. Lieutenant William R. Fletcher, commanding the gunboat Quirós, has destroyed 12 salt manufacturers, 35 tons of hemp, 12 tons of rice and several barrios, which served as rendezvous for the insurgents.

BLOOD ON THE GOWN.

Testified To That Mrs. Bonine's Garment Also Was Torn.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, on trial for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., is expected to go to the jury the latter part of this week. Three witnesses, intimate friends of Ayres, were put on the stand and swore that they had seen revolver in Ayres' room. Two of them, Duncan B. Hubbard and Thomas Ford, had come from Michigan to testify. They said the revolver greatly resembled the one in evidence.

The wrapper worn by Mrs. Bonine on the night of the tragedy was again the subject of discussion, the defense putting on the stand witnesses whose evidence was intended to discredit that given by Dr. Schaeffer, the government expert, who had testified that a careful examination of the wrapper had failed to disclose the presence of any blood spots thereon. It was testified that blood was found on the gown and it was torn.

CROKER TO QUIT AS LEADER.

Said He Was Getting Too Old and Worn Out.

New York, Dec. 4.—In an interview with Richard Croker, The Evening Post yesterday quoted the Tammany leader as saying:

"You won't see much more leading on my part in the future. I am getting old and worn out and I can't be a field horse for everybody any longer. I admit that the leader of Tammany Hall should stay in New York all the year round, and I can't stay here for more than a part of the year. If I tried to stay here all of the time I could do no work at all."

"All this talk about my being state leader and trying to dictate in national politics is nonsense. I am in no condition to do any kind of leading, but of course I will always take deep interest in Tammany Hall the best I can."

When asked if he was training anybody to succeed him as leader, he replied:

"Oh, I have not come to that yet, and I have not planned my future, except that I will go to England in January or February. The Tammany executive committee will meet next month and you may hear more of the matter then."

Scott's Emulsion does some things better than others. This is one of them. It has a peculiar action on the throat and lungs which gives them strength and makes them tough.

That's how Scott's Emulsion drives out coughs, colds and bronchitis. It keeps them out, too.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW, EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

The Trust as Viewed BY THE "Father of Trusts"

By JAMES B. DILL, "Father of Trusts"

TRUST IS A DOMINANT COMBINATION OF MONEY, PROPERTY, BUSINESS OR COMMERCIAL POWER OR ENERGY.

If the charter of every prominent combination of capital or dominant company expressed the real intent of the organization, instead of reading "to manufacture, transport and market" the particular product in question, it would state as the purpose of the company "to dominate in the manufacturing, to dominate in the transportation" and, what is quite as important, "to dominate in the market" of the product.

It is not the combination in itself which is vicious, but it is the methods employed by some corporations in the attempt to dominate which create the tendencies which are dangerous.

The tendency of the great corporations is to become in a measure callous to public opinion on the part of the corporation so far as the public

This indifference is to the fact that from view many of the corporations and much of isolation are based upon the corporate point of view. This indifference is to the fact that from view many of the corporations and much of isolation are based upon the corporate point of view.

Unwise legislation combinations, legislation enacted in response to ill advised popular clamor, invites and sometimes forces the industrial corporation to enter into the field of legislative competition, and when once in that field the corporation learns that it can not only defeat antitrust legislation, but can even procure procorporate legislation.

ANY ATTEMPT ON THE PART OF INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATIONS TO ENTER, VOLUNTARILY OR DEFENSIVELY, INTO THE FIELD OF LEGISLATION IS A TENDENCY WHICH IS TO BE REGARDED WITH GRAVE APPREHENSION.

The trust question is national in extent and breadth. It can be dealt with only by legislation equally broad—that is, national legislation—and it might be said in the present case that THE PUBLIC WELFARE AT PRESENT MORE URGENTLY REQUIRES A NATIONAL CORPORATION ACT THAN YEARS AGO IT REQUIRED A NATIONAL BANKING ACT.

Sold at Last.

A traveling man who is absent from the city about 60 days on each trip carried a pair of shoes to a German shoemaker to be half soled before leaving on a tour through the country towns. The shoemaker was accustomed to selling articles left with him for repairs if not called for in 30 days. The drummer stated to the shoemaker that he would be absent from the city for at least 60 days and would not leave the shoes to be repaired unless he was assured that they would not be sold.

The traveler's trip was prolonged to 90 days. When he returned, he went immediately to the shoemaker for his shoes.

The shoemaker's inability to distinguish between have and half came near resulting in his receiving a thrash.

"Have you sold my shoes?" asked the drummer.

"Yes, I had soled them," replied the shoemaker.

"What in blazes did you do that for?" yelled the traveler.

"You told me to do it,"

And then the drummer engaged in a bit of shocking profanity and threatened to clean up the ranch.—Memphis Scimitar.

Regarding President Roosevelt's proposed enunciation of Monroeism, the Chronicle says:

"Whether the European nations are likely to respect this American prohibition much longer, when the desirable colonizing grounds of the world are being snapped up in a headlong race, must depend ultimately upon the ability of the United States to enforce their prohibition."

Berlin, Dec. 4.—The message of President Roosevelt caused a mild thrill in Germany. On the booms, where it was eagerly awaited, the message was received with uncommon interest and the market generally was slightly stimulated upon the posting of a bulletin containing President Roosevelt's utterances about trusts. The shares of the steamship companies fell one or two points on account of the immigration inspection paragraph and the proposed development of the merchant marine.

Several financial journals aver there is no reason why the United States should not encourage ship building. They say that if the United States becomes possessed of a commercial fleet she will have to build it, inasmuch as the attempts to buy German lines of steamers have been defeated.

President Roosevelt's words concerning the restriction of immigration contain an unpleasant suggestion in the present time of depression, when, as the Berlin Volks Zeitung says, the hard times makes an overflow of the laboring population of Europe necessary. The free trade and liberal newspapers welcome the reciprocity recommendations, but regret that President Roosevelt did not recommend a specific tariff reduction.

America May Take Initiative.

The first impression of the president's message in German official circles is that the repression of anarchists by international agreement is much more likely to be carried through upon the initiative of the United States than by that of any other power. An anti-anarchist proposition from Germany along the same lines as that of President Roosevelt is probably already on its way to the state department at Washington.

The Vossische Zeitung says the president's message indicates that the feet of the United States are well in the imperialistic path and that ventures abroad seem to agree with this.

The National Zeitung alludes to the

SOUND AS A DOLLAR

That is the result of a course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. We have special reference to persons with weak lungs and sensitive throats.

Scott's Emulsion does some things better than others. This is one of them. It has a peculiar action on the throat and lungs which gives them strength and makes them tough. That's how Scott's Emulsion drives out coughs, colds and bronchitis. It keeps them out, too.

When asked if he was training anybody to succeed him as leader, he replied:

"Oh, I have not come to that yet, and I have not planned my future, except that I will go to England in January or February. The Tammany executive committee will meet next month, and you may hear more of the matter then."

strong and confident tone used by President Roosevelt and to his large popularity.

Taking the message altogether, it has been favorably received, both popularly and officially.

QUEEN AND PRINCE RECONCILED

Kaiser Brought Pressure on Husband. Mother Urged Queen.

Amsterdam, Dec. 4.—Prince Henry, Queen Wilhelmina's consort, returned to the Loup palace from Germany on Sunday. Monday, in the presence of the queen mother, a reconciliation was effected between the royal couple. The consort was absent from home during the whole time of the queen's illness, including the most critical period.

It is learned that Queen Emma persuaded Queen Wilhelmina to forgive Prince Henry, while Emperor William brought pressure to bear upon the prince to the same end. Arrangements have been made to pay Prince Henry's debts, and this removes the original cause of the quarrel.

GREAT RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

Experienced at New Kensington, Pa. Religious Growth in Arnold and Parnassus, Pa.

New Kensington, Pa., Dec. 4.—This town is experiencing the greatest religious revival in its history. Several weeks ago a movement to organize a Young Men's Christian association was started and the association now has almost 400 members, while plans for a Y. M. C. A. hall are being discussed.

The Rev. N. S. Fiscus, of the First Presbyterian church, has been conducting a successful revival and in almost every church revival services of some kind are in progress and many new members are being received. The Methodist Protestants have organized a new congregation, whose membership is rapidly increasing. The church people of Arnold and Parnassus are meeting with similar success.

LUKBAN WAS TOO LATE.

General Smith Replied That Time For Negotiations Had Passed.

Manila, Dec. 4.—Advices from Cataibagan, capital of the island of Samar, report that the insurgent General Lukban has offered to negotiate terms of surrender with General Smith. To this offer the American commander replied that the time for negotiations had passed.

Lieutenant Commander James M. Helm, commanding the United States gunboat Frolic, during November destroyed 147 boats engaged in smuggling supplies to the insurgents.

General Smith has ordered all male Filipinos to leave the coast towns for the interior. In order to be allowed to return they must bring guns, prisoners or information of the whereabouts of insurrectionists.

Five hundred natives of Cataibagan have volunteered to fight the insurgents in order to bring peace to Samar. Of these 100 have been accepted. They are armed with bolos and spears and are doing scouting duty under command of Lieutenant Compton.

Lieutenant Haines, of the Ninth Infantry, attacked and destroyed a rebel fort, inflicting heavy loss, and captured the officers' breakfast, which included canned goods. He found at the fort an arsenal with appliances for making and reloading cartridges.

The American marines are working havoc with the insurgent cause in the southern part of Samar. Lieutenant William R. Fletcher, commanding the gunboat Quirós, has destroyed 12 salt manufacturers, 35 tons of hemp, 12 tons of rice and several barrios, which served as rendezvous for the insurgents.

BLOOD ON THE GOWN.

Testified To That Mrs. Bonine's Garment Also Was Torn.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine, on trial for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., is expected to go to the jury the latter part of this week. Three witnesses, intimate friends of Ayres, were put on the stand and swore that they had seen a revolver in Ayres' room. Two of them, Duncan B. Hubbard and Thomas Ford, had come from Michigan to testify. They said the revolver greatly resembled the one in evidence.

The wrapper worn by Mrs. Bonine on the night of the tragedy was again the subject of discussion, the defense putting on the stand witnesses whose evidence was intended to discredit that given by Dr. Schaeffer, the government expert, who had testified that a careful examination of the wrapper had failed to disclose the presence of any blood spots thereon. It was testified that no blood was found on the gown and it was torn.

CROKER TO QUIT AS LEADER.

Said He Was Getting Too Old and Worn Out.

New York, Dec. 4.—In an interview with Richard Croker, The Evening Post yesterday quoted the Tammany leader as saying:

"You won't see much more leading on my part in the future. I am getting old and worn out and I can't be a field horse for everybody any longer. I admit that the leader of Tammany Hall should stay in New York all the year round, and I can't stay here for more than a part of the year. If I tried to stay here all of the time I could do no work at all."

"All this talk about my being state leader and trying to dictate in national politics is nonsense. I am in no condition to do any kind of leading, but of course I will always take deep interest in Tammany Hall the best I can."

"Oh, I have not come to that yet, and I have not planned my future, except that I will go to England in January or February. The Tammany executive committee will meet next month, and you may hear more of the matter then."

The Trust as Viewed BY... THE "Father of Trusts"

By JAMES B. DILL, "Father of Trusts"

A TRUST IS A DOMINANT COMBINATION OF MONEY, PROPERTY, BUSINESS OR COMMERCIAL POWER OR ENERGY.

If the charter of every prominent combination of capital or dominant company expressed the real intent of the organization, instead of reading "to manufacture, transport and market" the particular product in question, it would state as the purpose of the company "to dominate in the manufacturing, to dominate in the transportation" and, what is quite as important, "to dominate in the market" of the product.

It is not the combination in itself which is vicious, but it is the methods employed by some corporations in the attempt to dominate which create the tendencies which are dangerous.

The tendency of the great corporations is to become in a measure callous to public opinion on the part of the corporation so far as the public

This indifference is to the fact that from view many of the corporations and much of isolation are based upon a lack of understanding against industrial combinations, legislation enacted in response to ill advised popular clamor, invites and sometimes forces the industrial corporation to enter into the field of legislative competition, and when once in that field the corporation learns that it can not only defeat antitrust legislation, but can even procure procorporate legislation.

ANY ATTEMPT ON THE PART OF INDUSTRIAL ORGANIZATIONS TO ENTER, VOLUNTARILY OR DEFENSIVELY, INTO THE FIELD OF LEGISLATION IS A TENDENCY WHICH IS TO BE REGARDED WITH GRAVE APPREHENSION.

The trust question is national in extent and breadth. It can be dealt with only by legislation equally broad—that is, national legislation—and it might be said in the present case that THE PUBLIC WELFARE AT PRESENT MORE URGENTLY REQUIRES A NATIONAL CORPORATION ACT THAN YEARS AGO IT REQUIRED A NATIONAL BANKING ACT.

Sold at Last.

A traveling man who is absent from the city about 60 days on each trip carried a pair of shoes to a German shoemaker to be half soled before leaving on a tour through the country towns. The shoemaker was accustomed to selling articles left with him for repairs if not called for in 30 days. The drummer stated to the shoemaker he would be absent from the city for at least 60 days and would not leave the shoes to be repaired unless he was assured that they would not be sold.

The traveler's trip was prolonged to 90 days. When he returned, he went immediately to the shoemaker for his shoes.

The shoemaker's inability to distinguish between have and half came near resulting in his receiving a thrashing.

"Have you sold my shoes?" asked the drummer.

"Ya, I baf soled them," replied the shoemaker.

"What in blazes did you do that for?" yelled the traveler.

"You told me to do it."

And then the drummer engaged in a bit of shocking profanity and threatened to clean up the ranch.—Memphis Scimitar.

English Ideas of Lynching.

At a recent dinner in London the conversation turned on the subject of lynchings in the United States. It was the general opinion that a rope was the chief end of man in America. Finally the hostess turned to an American, who had taken no part in the conversation, and said:

"You, sir, must have often seen these affairs."

"Yes," he replied, "we take a kind of municipal pride in seeing which city ran the greatest number of lynchings yearly."

"Oh, do tell us about a lynching you have seen yourself," broke in half a dozen voices at once.

"The night before I sailed for England," said the American, "I was giving a dinner to a party of intimate friends when a colored waiter spilled a plate of soup over the gown of a lady at an adjoining table. The gown was utterly ruined, and the gentlemen of her party at once seized the waiter, tied a rope around his neck and, at a signal from the injured lady, swung him into the air."

"Horrible!" said the hostess, with a shudder. "And did you actually see this yourself?"

"Well, no," said the American apologetically. "Just at that time I was down stairs killing the chef for putting mustard in the blancmange."—Modern Society.

The wrapper worn by Mrs. Bonine on the night of the tragedy was again the subject of discussion, the defense putting on the stand witnesses whose evidence was intended to discredit that given by Dr. Schaeffer, the government expert, who had testified that a careful examination of the wrapper had failed to disclose the presence of any blood spots thereon. Meetings, In Pittsburg, Under Presbyterian Evangelization Committee.

REV. DR. CHAPMAN SPOKE.

He Said Many Ministers Had Lost
Step—Must Read Their Bibles More to Regain Lost Ground—Rev. Dr.
Carson Spoke.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—Different meetings were held under the auspices of the Presbyterian general assembly evangelistic committee. Distinguished ministers were present from the presbyteries of Pittsburg, Allegheny, Washington, Butler, Redstone, Erie, Steubenville and Blairsville. Such well-known ministers as the Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Cunningham, of Wheeling; the Rev. Dr. William M. Taylor, of New Castle; the Rev. D. Edwin Wallace, of Greensburg; the Rev. Dr. James D. Moorehead, of Beaver Falls; the Rev. Perrin S. Baker, of Believeron; the Rev. D. C. C. Hays, of Johnstown; the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, of Washington; the Rev. Dr. William Speer, of Washington; the Rev. Dr. Theodore S. Negley, of Brownsville; the Rev. Dr. J. S. McCarroll, of McKeesport, and at least 100 other strangers were present. The meetings were under the management of John H. Converse, of Philadelphia, the chairman and supporter of the committee. The other members of the committee present are the Rev. Mr. J. Wilbur Chapman, John Balcom Shaw and John F. Carson, of New York.

Rev. Dr. Chapman Spoke.

Rev. Dr. Chapman spoke last night before the evangelistic convention in the Second Presbyterian church, taking for his subject the expression of Mary Magdalene, uttered at the foot of the cross, "They have taken away the Lord." He said many ministers and elders had gotten out of step with Jesus. It was all because of sin, he said, and they would have to go back to where they had taken their first misstep and read their Bibles more.

He said ministers and people were lost because they let one sin enter their mind and they failed to drive it out until along come a second sin and joined it and two sins were too hard to drive out. He said well-filled pews did not make a church, but sinless, sanctified people. He urged the ministers and elders to open their hearts for the reception of the spirit of God.

Dr. Carson held an after meeting held in the Sunday school room of the Second church. Dr. Chapman spoke briefly there. He told of the great good done by John H. Converse, of Philadelphia, who is chairman of the assembly committee and who had presided at a meeting of elders in the afternoon. He said Mr. Converse had given $25,000 to carry on the work they were doing. "Dr. Carson and I are going back to New York to tell our rich men what Mr. Converse has done and see if we cannot get them to give some of their riches for the purpose of evangelizing the world," Dr. Chapman said.

Called For Personal Testimony. Dr. Carson called for personal testimony and several of the ministers and elders told of the great impression the conference had made on them and promised revivals. Rev. Dr. D. S. Kennedy thanked the visitors for their services and suggested a rising vote of thanks, which was given.

Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, of Brooklyn, made two eloquent appeals yesterday afternoon for "consecration and dedication of God." At 2 o'clock he addressed the students of the Western Theological seminary and at 4 o'clock he talked at a second meeting.

Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, of New York, also spoke at both meetings, but talked simply on the method of "soul winning."

Lea to Be Unveiled.

Pittsburg, Dec. 4.—The presbytery of Pittsburg has been called to meet next Tuesday in the Forty-third Street Presbyterian church. The special feature will be the unveiling of a fine memorial tablet to the memory of the Rev. Dr. Richard Lea, who was pastor of the church in Lawrenceville for over half a century.

The unveiling will be done by the Rev. Dr. Henry H. Stiles, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Altoona, who was pastor of the Thirty-ninth Street church for several years. He will deliver an address.

The Rev. Dr. Elijah R. Donehoo, who was co-laborer with Dr. Lea for nearly a quarter of a century, and was his intimate friend, will represent the presbytery and give characteristic

Wealth DOES NOT MEAN Happiness

By
JOHN D.
ROCKEFELLER
Jr.

EALTH does not mean happiness.

A man may have riches and not be happy; a man may be honest and not be happy; a man may live better than others, have the highest social position, and not be happy or even successful. HAP-PINESS AND SUCCESS COME ONLY WITH RIGHTEOUS LIVING. If you live a clean life, pay strict attention to the teachings of Jesus Christ, yours will be righteous living and you will be happy and successful.

I was riding in a hansom the other day when I was attracted by the smiling face and jovial disposition of the driver. I asked him if he was happy, and he said: "I am very happy, Mr. Rockefeller. It may not seem so because I am the driver of a cab, but it is nevertheless the truth. I would sooner be on the box than anywhere else. I own a little house in the country, where I live with my wife and two children. I came by the home through hard work and have been well rewarded."

This man told me that he didn't drink and that he attended church as often as he could and lived up to the teachings of Jesus Christ as well as he knew how. This man's life is righteous, and, as he said, wealth could not make him any happier.

Christ did not necessarily mean wealth when he said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt and where thieves break through and steal."

So few clearly understand the true meaning of these words. So few have looked deep enough into the thought that is so well expressed. They do not necessarily mean money; they may mean anything else. They may mean any other calling in life that men may devote too much attention to and forget spiritual blessings.

A MAN MAY POSSESS GREAT WEALTH ON EARTH AND AT THE SAME TIME BUILD UP TREASURES IN HEAVEN. WEALTH IS NOT NECESSARILY AN IMPEDIMENT TO A MAN'S ADMIT- TANCE TO THE BEYOND.

and reminiscences of Dr. Lea. The Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Fisher and other friends of Dr. Lea are expected to speak.

The case of the Rev. Charles H. Pridgeon will come before the presbytery for settlement. He resigns the charge of the First Presbyterian church, of Canonsburg, to start a Bible school in Pittsburg.

As there is a theological seminary of the church now in Allegheny the question has been raised as to the wisdom of licensing another institution of the same general character, which may in the course of time come before the denomination for money. Mr. Pridgeon proposes to start the school on faith.

Kind Heartedness.

The gingham shirted boy had made a break to pass the ticket seller at the circus entrance, but that gentleman had caught him and rudely thrust him back.

"Poor little devil!" said a seedy looking man in the crowd. "If I had the money, I'd buy him a ticket myself."

The crowd looked sympathetic, but said nothing, while the boy sobbed as if his heart would dissolve.

"I've only got a nickel, little feller," went on the seedy looking one, "and that won't do you no good. Say," he continued, turning suddenly to the crowd, "let's do one good act in our lives. Let's buy him a ticket."

It looked for a minute as if a collection was to be started, but a benevolent looking old gentleman nipped it in the bud by slipping a half dollar into the hand of the boy, who promptly disappeared into the tent.

"I thank you a thousand times for that kind act, sir," said the seedy looking man.

"You seem to take quite an interest in the little fellow," remarked the benevolent one.

"Well," I should think I ought to," answered the seedy looking man proudly. "That's the only son I got!"—Indianapolis Sun.

A Lesson in Politeness.

The Philadelphia Record says that a railroad contractor who recently returned from abroad tells of an experience that befell him in Munich illustrative of the difference in prevailing customs.

Armed with a number of letters of introduction to European railroad officials, he made it a point to inquire into the workings of the various systems and was treated with uniform courtesy.

At Munich he thought he had acquired all the information he was after, and as he passed out of the office of the man with whom he had been talking, he put on his hat. He had scarcely been ushered out when it occurred to him that there was one matter about which he had forgotten to inquire.

"I immediately retraced my steps," said the Philadelphian, "and again entered the office, neglecting to remove my hat. I saw the same official with whom I had been talking, and, apologizing for taking up so much of his time, I put the question to him. Without a word he reached up, took off my hat and placed it in my hand. Then he answered my query and bowed me out. It made me feel rather cheap."

Prejudiced.

"So you won't take my medicine?" said the doctor, who had been called in against the patient's wishes.

"I will not," replied the patient.

"I suppose you're one of these poor, deluded beings who believe in throwing physic to the dogs."

"Not indiscriminately. Some dogs are valuable."—Philadelphia Press.

Doubled the Fee.

A clergyman who used to be a pastor of a church in Kansas City says that on one occasion he had rather an amusing experience in marrying a young couple in that city.

"The gentleman," said the clergyman, "was a handsome, noble looking young man and the bride to be more than usually beautiful. It was plain to be seen that the prospective groom thought he had secured the one prize in all the matrimonial market and was correspondingly elated."

"Just before the ceremony the gentleman handed me the marriage license to see that it was all right. Inside the license there was a crisp $5 note, placed there as the fee. The couple stood up before the few witnesses in the parlor, the ceremony was gone through with, and they were pronounced husband and wife. The first thing the new husband did was to draw his wife to him and imprint a fond kiss on her sweet lips. It seemed to thrill him with unexpected joy, for, immediately turning to me, he said, 'Parson, I'll be switched if I paid you enough for this job,' and, pulling from his pocket another $5 note, he thrust it into my hands."—Baltimore Sun.

"Willingly," replied the professor. Wealth Does Not Mean Happiness

By
JOHN D.
ROCKEFELLER,
Jr.

EALTH does not mean happiness. A man may have riches and not be happy; a man may be honest and not be happy; a man may live better than others, have the highest social position, and not be happy or even successful. HAP-PINESS AND SUCCESS COME ONLY WITH RIGHTEOUS LIVING. If you live a clean life, pay strict attention to the teachings of Jesus Christ, yours will be righteous living and you will be happy and successful.

I was riding in a hansom the other day when I was attracted by the smiling face and jovial disposition of the driver. I asked him if he was happy, and he said: "I am very happy, Mr. Rockefeller. It may not seem so because I am the driver of a cab, but it is nevertheless the truth. I would sooner be on the box than anywhere else. I own a little house in the country, where I live with my wife and two children. I came by the home through hard work and have been well rewarded."

This man told me that he didn't drink and that he attended church as often as he could and lived up to the teachings of Jesus Christ as well as he knew how. This man's life is righteous, and, as he said, wealth could not make him any happier.

Christ did not necessarily mean wealth when he said, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt and where thieves break through and steal."

So few clearly understand the true meaning of these words. So few have looked deep enough into the thought that is so well expressed. They do not necessarily mean money; they may mean anything else. They may mean any other calling in life that men may devote too much attention to and forget spiritual blessings.

A MAN MAY POSSESS GREAT WEALTH ON EARTH AND AT THE SAME TIME BUILD UP TREASURES IN HEAVEN, WEALTH IS NOT NECESSARILY AN IMPEDIMENT TO A MAN'S ADMITTANCE TO THE BEYOND.

and reminiscences of Dr. Lea. The Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Fisher and other old friends of Dr. Lea are expected to speak.

The case of the Rev. Charles H. Pridgeon will come before the presbytery for settlement. He resigns the charge of the First Presbyterian church, of Canonsburg, to start a Bible school in Pittsburg.

As there is a theological seminary of the church now in Allegheny the question has been raised as to the wisdom of licensing another institution of the same general character, which may in the course of time come before the denomination for money. Mr. Pridgeon proposes to start the school on faith.

Kind Heartedness.

The gingham shirted boy had made a break to pass the ticket seller at the circus entrance, but that gentleman had caught him and rudely thrust him back.

"Poor little devil!" said a seedy looking man in the crowd. "If I had the money, I'd buy him a ticket myself."

The crowd looked sympathetic, but said nothing, while the boy sobbed as if his heart would dissolve.

"I've only got a nickel, little feller," went on the seedy looking one, "and that won't do you no good. Say," he continued, turning suddenly to the crowd, "let's do one good act in our lives. Let's buy him a ticket."

It looked for a minute as if a collection was to be started, but a benevolent looking old gentleman nipped it in the bud by slipping a half dollar into the hand of the boy, who promptly disappeared into the tent.

"I thank you a thousand times for that kind act, sir," said the seedy looking man.

"You seem to take quite an interest in the little fellow," remarked the benevolent one.

"Well," I should think I ought to," answered the seedy looking man proudly. "That's the only son I got!"—in dianapolis Sun.

A Lesson in Politeness.

The Philadelphia Record says that a railroad contractor who recently returned from abroad tells of an experience that befell him in Munich illustrative of the difference in prevailing customs.

Armed with a number of letters of introduction to European railroad officials, he made it a point to inquire into the workings of the various systems and was treated with uniform courtesy.

At Munich he thought he had acquired all the information he was after, and as he passed out of the office of the man with whom he had been talking he put on his hat. He had scarcely been ushered out when it occurred to him that there was one matter about which he had forgotten to inquire.

"I immediately retraced my steps," said the Philadelphian, "and again entered the office, neglecting to remove my hat. I saw the same official with whom I had been talking, and, apologizing for taking up so much of his time, I put the question to him. Without a word he reached up, took off my hat and placed it in my hand. Then he answered my query and bowed me out. It made me feel rather cheap."

Prejudiced:

"So you won't take my medicine," said the doctor, who had been called in against the patient's wishes.

"I will not," replied the patient.

"I suppose you're one of these poor, deluded beings who believe in throwing physic to the dogs."

"Not indiscriminately. Some dogs are valuable."—Philadelphia Press.

A Book Hunter's Worry.

The worry of finding that a book is incomplete is often to be expected. Often most respectable looking books have a page missing somewhere. One cannot trust even a folio that has been connected with religious houses all its life. It may be invisibly bound in the strongest case; it may have passed all its quiet, unread days behind glass and be as clean as on the day on which it was issued, and yet page 341 may have vanished.

We once knew a man who had a firm belief in the devil and for this reason: He said that he could hardly count the imperfect books by which he had been misled in his time, and in nearly every case these books had a highly respectable past. They had grown mellow in monasteries or had been carefully tended in great libraries where they were never touched except to be dusted. It seemed morally impossible that harm could have come to these books, and yet each one had a page missing somewhere. Therefore he was reluctantly forced to the conclusion that the devil was in it. He supposed that when the devil was in need of more quotations he abstracted a page from some little read book, choosing it both in order that he might obtain a reputation for wisdom and also that he might not be found out.

We do not uphold this theory, but we do recommend the book hunter, so far as possible, to collate every book of any importance which he may contemplate buying.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Doubled the Fee.

A clergyman who used to be a pastor of a church in Kansas City says that on one occasion he had rather an amusing experience in marrying a young couple in that city.

"The gentleman," said the clergyman, "was a handsome, noble looking young man and the bride to be more than usually beautiful. It was plain to be seen that the prospective groom thought he had secured the one prize in all the matrimonial market and was considerably elated."

"Just before the ceremony the gentleman handed me the marriage license to see that it was all right. Inside the license there was a crisp $5 note, placed there as the fee. The couple stood up before the few witnesses in the parlor, the ceremony was gone through with, and they were pronounced husband and wife. The first thing the new husband did was to draw his wife to him and imprint a fond kiss on her sweet lips. It seemed to thrill him with unexpected joy, for immediately turning to me, he said, 'Parson, I'll be switched if I paid you enough for this job,' and, pulling from his pocket another $5 note, he thrust it into my hands."—Baltimore Sun.

Perfectly Plain.

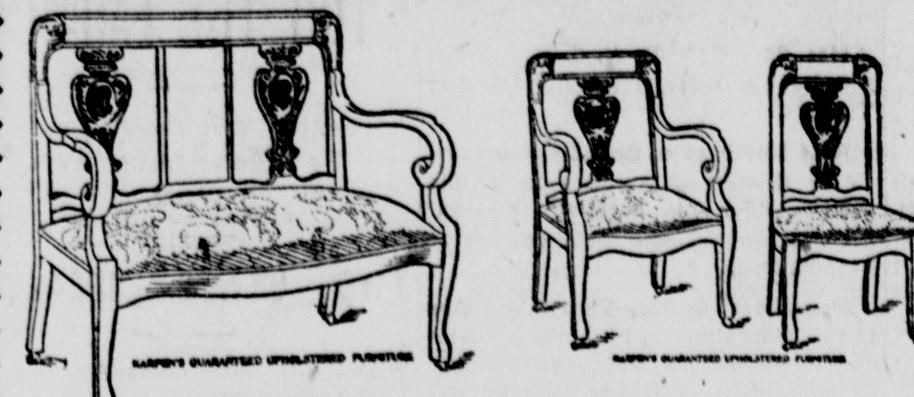

Uncle Rastus, who was seeking information concerning mushrooms, had been referred by a preternaturally solemn student to the professor of botany, and, with hat in hand, he was addressing that dignitary.

"Would yo' mind tellin' me, Mistah Mandrake," he said, "how to 'stingish a musharoon I'm a toadstool?"

"Willingly," replied the professor.

"In the first place, you must remember that the Amanita phalloides, or deadly agaric, closely resembles the Agaricus campestris, or edible fungus, which is our common variety and absolutely innoxious. Next, it will be necessary to fix firmly in your mind the distinguishing marks or characteristics of the

Agaricus campestris, which are these:

AN UNEQUALED RECORD

There is a rapidly increasing volume of East Liverpool Evidence Roll ing up for the Great Medicine, Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

It would seem that hardly any one can take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills without receiving marked benefit. The wonderful action of this medicine in putting people on their feet who are in a weak, run down condition, is the talk of every place they are known. It is only a short time since they came to East Liverpool, yet today they are more in evidence for merit with East Liverpool people than all other medicines combined.

Mr. B. L. Updegraff, of 169 Fifth street, East Liverpool, Ohio says: "As general and nerve tonic I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets. I was at the time feeling run down and nervous, not up to the mark in health, and needed a tonic. The medicine did its work nicely and I regained tone, strength and energy again."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

A FINE PROGRAM FOR THE FARMERS

Interesting Two Days' Meeting to Be Held at Lisbon This Week.

TWO STATE SPEAKERS

Will Be in Attendance And a Very Profitable Session is Looked For. County Commissioner French Also Booked for a Speech.

Lisbon, December 4.—(Special)—The Central Farmers' Institute will be held in the common pleas court room next Friday and Saturday opening at 9 o'clock Friday morning and closing Saturday afternoon.

This meeting of the farmers has grown in interest not only among the tillers of the soil, but Lisbon people for the past few years have shown a wonderful display of interest. The attendance in the past has been wonderfully large and each year the growth is noticeable.

A splendid program has been prepared for the coming session and two splendid state speakers, T. J. Miller and W. N. Cowden, will give several interesting talks and several Columbian county residents will also interest those present. Commissioner J. H. French will give a talk on "Horses," which will be instructive to all who raise or own horses. Mr. French is well posted along this line and knows what he is talking about.

The music will be furnished by the Huffman Bros., of Doylestown who sang here last year. They are both blind and do remarkable work in this line. They will sing at every session except the first session Friday morning.

Alvary Finished the Kiss.

"A beautiful scene," said an old theater goer, "may be utterly ruined by some trifling mistake, and an error of seemingly infinitesimal dimensions throw out an entire company. Often, however, the ready wit and presence of mind of an actor or actress may save the day and turn what might otherwise have been disaster into triumph.

One of the most difficult of all scenes to carry off successfully occurs in the opera of 'Siegfried' in St. Louis Alvary—poor chap!—was singing Siegfried to Mme.

Sucher's Brunnhilde. He had got about half way through his lengthy oscillation when the gallery began a succession of snacks, constantly increasing in volume. It was a critical moment; but, as the event proved, one that was to add to Alvary's already large wreath of laurels.

"Some years ago at a performance of 'Siegfried' in St. Louis Alvary—poor chap!—was singing Siegfried to Mme.

Sucher's Brunnhilde. He had got about half way through his lengthy oscillation when the gallery began a succession of snacks, constantly increasing in volume. It was a critical moment; but, as the event proved, one that was to add to Alvary's already large wreath of laurels.

Slowly he raised his magnificently handsome head and turned toward the audience and silently looked the galleries into silence. In ten seconds he had completely mastered them, and you could have heard a pin drop in the great house. Then he dropped his face on that of Brunnhilde, and that kiss went on to its appointed and Sapho-like finish without further interruption from the audience. It was as fine an exhibition of the control a great personality can exercise over an audience as I have ever witnessed."—New York Tribune.

The Height of the Table.

There was a certain Major X. who had for some years enjoyed the reputation of being one of the wildest men in India. Making a call on one occasion on a mess, he found Captain Z., whom he wanted, out, but the mess walter assured him that the latter would soon return, wherefore he waited in the anteroom.

A few minutes later the mess sergeant, happening to pass the window, noticed to his surprise that Major X.

had passed into the messroom beyond and was applying a tape measure to the mess table. Naturally considering this an odd proceeding, he mentioned it later on in the day to Captain Z., who took counsel and then begged a favor of the colonel, which was to allow an inch to be sawed off the table legs. In due course Major X. was invited to dinner, and the mess was there to a man.

As was expected, during dessert he contrived to lead the conversation on to guessing heights, and from that to offering to bet on the present mahogany was but a step. They took him on, from colonel down to the youngest sub.

Even the chaplain could not resist the tem-tation to chastise the unrighteous and ventured his mite. The challenger bet

first, just an eighth of an inch beyond the old height, and then the mess, in roation, guessed exactly the same, and all guessed exactly right. He was done completely.—London Free Lance.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

Has Sold Out—D. K. Tarr has disposed of his bakery interests to Arthur Thomas.

New Members to Be Admitted—The Home Guards of America meet this evening over the Potters' National bank. About 15 new members are to be admitted.

Maccabees' Social—The Carrie Bee Hive, Maccabees, will have a social and entertainment tomorrow evening at their quarters in the Potters' National bank building.

Went to Pittsburgh—Mayor David Thompson and Chief Thompson, who were at Lisbon yesterday, went to Pittsburgh last night and attended a performance at one of the theaters there.

Herbert's Orchestra—A musical treat is promised for East Liverpool people tonight when Victor Herbert's orchestra appears at Turner hall. It is one of Pittsburgh's finest musical organizations and a superb program has been arranged for the concert this evening.

Ordination Services—At the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon a council of ordination will meet. In the evening at 7:30, the ordination of Rev. Oscar Lee Owens, as pastor of the First Baptist church, will take place according to the previously published program.

Concert at 8:30—On account of the fact that there are several important social events Friday afternoon and early evening and that both the Episcopal and United Presbyterian churches have services lasting until 8:30, Mr. Wright has arranged that the concert at the Y. M. C. A. will start at 8:30 instead of 8 o'clock.

Elks' Meeting—The meeting of the local Lodge of Elks to be held Thursday will be one of unusual interest. District Deputy S. H. Needs, of Cleveland, will be present and an especial effort is being put forth to make his brief stay in this city a pleasant one. Arrangements are being made to do some work in the convivial degree.

A FINE PROGRAM
FOR THE FARMERS

Interesting Two Days' Meeting to Be Held at Lisbon This Week.

TWO STATE SPEAKERS

Will Be in Attendance And a Very Profitable Session is Looked For.
County Commissioner French Also Booked for a Speech.

Lisbon, December 4.—(Special)—
The Central Farmers' Institute will be held in the common pleas court room next Friday, and Saturday opening at 9 o'clock Friday morning and closing Saturday afternoon.

This meeting of the farmers has grown in interest not only among the tillers of the soil, but Lisbon people for the past few years have shown a wonderful display of interest. The attendance in the past has been wonderfully large and each year the growth is noticeable.

A splendid program has been prepared for the coming session and two splendid state speakers, T. J. Miller and W. N. Cowden, will give several interesting talks and several Colum-biania county residents will also interest those present. Commissioner J. H.
French will give a talk on "Horses," which will be instructive to all who raise or own horses. Mr. French is well posted along this line and knows what he is talking about.

The music will be furnished by the Huffman Bros., of Doylestown, who sang here last year. They are both blind and do remarkable work in this line. They will sing at every session except the first session Friday morning.

Alvay Finished the Kiss.

"A beautiful scene," said an old theater goer, "may be utterly ruined by some trifling mistake, and an error of seemingly infinitesimal dimensions throw out an entire company. Oftentimes, however, the ready wit and presence of mind of an actor or actress may save the day and turn what might otherwise have been disaster into triumph.
One of the most difficult of all scenes to carry off successfully occurs in the opera of 'Siegfried.' You will remember that Siegfried awakens Brunnhilde from her long sleep with a kiss. Wagner has so arranged it that the kiss seems as long to the audience as the immortal slumber itself. In reality it lasts about 70 seconds, but it seems unending. It is a most trying situation for the singers, for the audience is extremely likely to grow restless.

"Some years ago at a performance of 'Siegfried' in St. Louis Alvay—poor chap!—was singing Siegfried to Mime, Sucher's Brunnhilde. He had got about half way through his lengthy osculation when the gallery began a succession of snacks, constantly increasing in volume.
It was a critical moment; but, as the event proved, one that was to add to Alvay's already large wreath of laurels.

"Slowly he raised his magnificently handsome head and turned toward the audience and silently looked the gallers into silence. In ten seconds he had completely mastered them, and you could have heard a pin drop in the great house. Then he dropped his face on that of Brunnhilde, and that kiss went on to its appointed and Sapholike finish without further interruption from the audience. It was as fine an exhibition of the control a great personality can exercise over an audience as I have ever witnessed."—New York Tribune.

The Height of the Table.

There was a certain Major X. who had for some years enjoyed the reputation of being one of the wildest men in India. Making a call on one occasion on a mess, he found Captain Z., whom he wanted, out, but the mess waiter assured him that the latter would soon return, wherefore he waited in the an-teroom.

A few minutes later the mess sergeant, happening to pass the window, noticed to his surprise that Major X.
had passed into the messroom beyond and was applying a tape measure to the mess table. Naturally considering this an odd proceeding, he mentioned it later on in the day to Captain Z., who took counsel and then begged a favor of the colonel, which was to allow an inch to be sawed off the table legs. In due course Major X. was invited to dinner, and the mess was there to a man.

As was expected, during dessert he contrived to lead the conversation on to guessing heights, and from that to offering to bet on the present mahogany was but a step. They took him on, from colonel down to the youngest sub. Even the chaplain could not resist the temptation to chastise the unrighteous and ventured his mite. The challenger bet
first, just an eighth of an inch beyond the old height, and then the mess, in rotation, guessed exactly the same, and all guessed exactly right. He was done completely.—London Free Lance.

HARD'S

CLASH OF INTERESTS

Between Electric And Steam Railway
Will Lead to Battle at Columbus.

The coming session of the legislature will probably witness the greatest struggle between electric and steam railways in the history of Ohio. The clash will come when the owners of electric railways ask for the enactment of legislation which will allow to them identical privileges in the carrying of freight as now enjoyed by steam roads.

The full power of the great steam road interests will be lined up against the granting of equal freight privileges and because of the wonderful growth of electric roads in this state during the last few years the contest at Columbus promises to be nothing short of a struggle of giants.

Many who are closely watching the developments of the situation believe that the fight is a life and death struggle for the electric railway people. If they cannot enter the freight field on a broad scale it is believed that the extension of local suburban lines and the forming of immense syndicates to operate long distance roads will suddenly cease.
